"Now if all my Golden Moments could be rolled into one. They would shine just like the sun for a summer day."

-James Taylor

And in the passage from the cradle to the grave, we are born, madly dancing rushing headlong through the crashing of the days. We run on and on without a backward glance.

-Dan Fogelberg

We, the students of Lynbrook, share alike a passage leading us through life. The uniqueness of each individual is the result of finding the meaning of this passage. Choices we make here at Lynbrook will guide us through our lifelong journey; and through these choices, we will gain knowledge and experience. The passage through these years challenges us to apply the lessons we have learned, to tackle unforeseen obstacles. During this facet of the passage, we are faced with a crossroad, where we decide which path to...

"One by one, we're given these moments to live just as one by one they're taken away so one by one I'm taking each day in my stride and one by one the moments stay."

-Doobie Brothers

"Though I know I'll never lose affection for people and things that went before, I know I'll often stop and think about them in life. I'll love them even more."
-The Beatles

*"Shower the people
you love with love!
Show them the way
you feel. Things are gonna work out fine
if you only will."*

-James Taylor

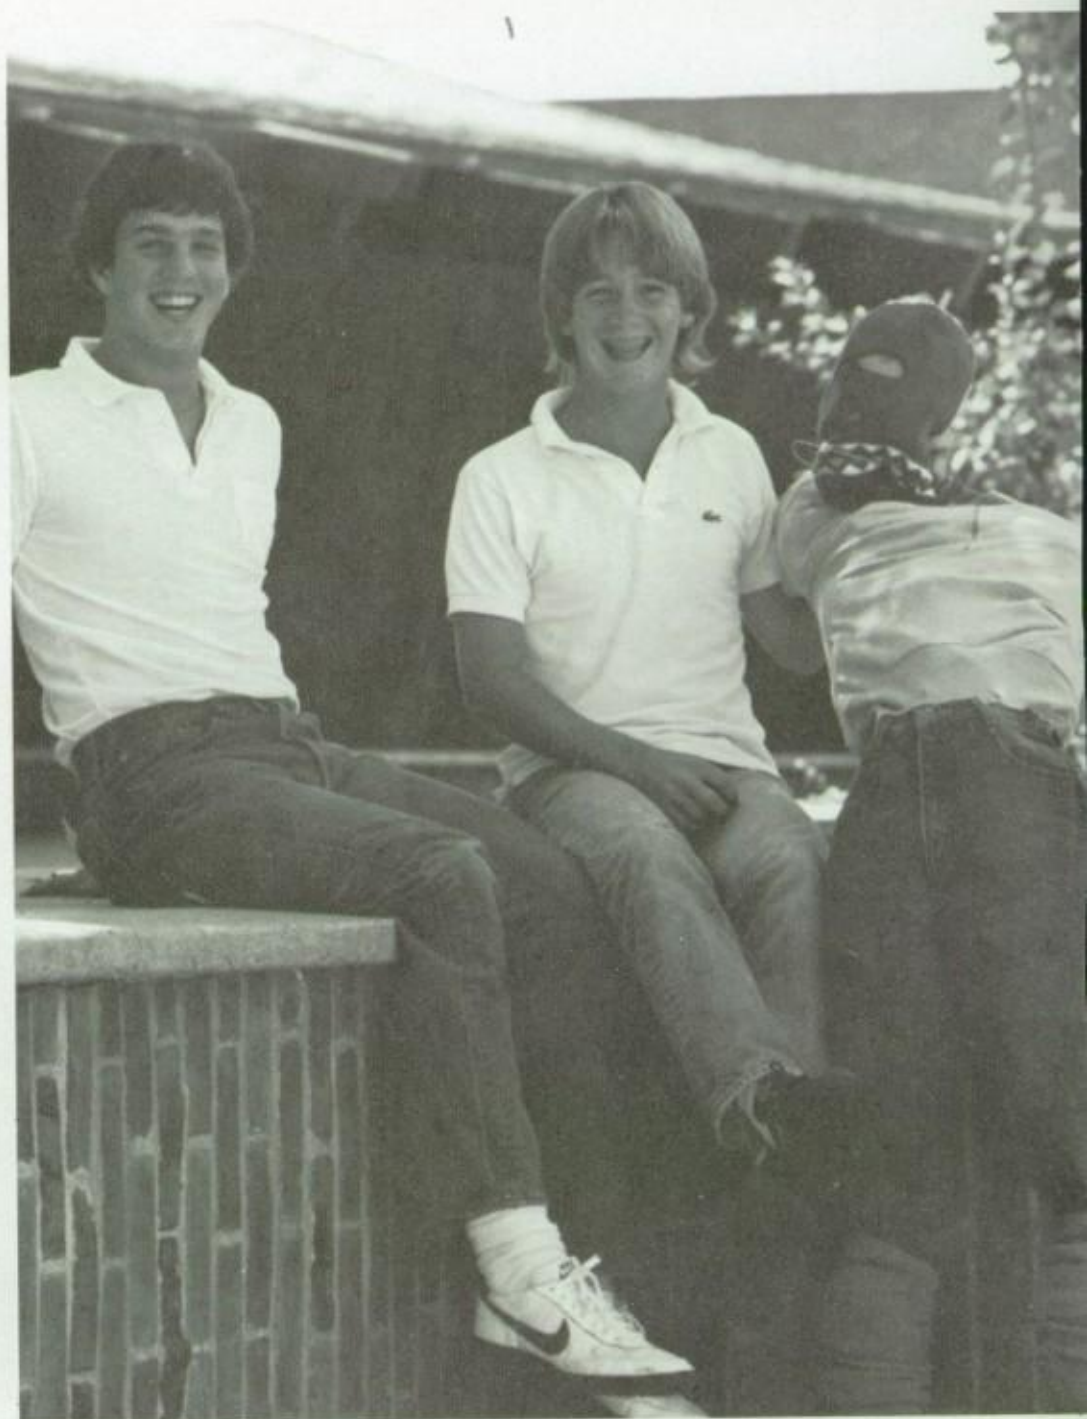

pursue. Although we may stumble, we learn from mistakes, and retain memories to share. "Once in a vision I came upon some woods and stood at a fork in the road. My choices were clear, yet I froze with fear of not knowing which way to go. One road was simple acceptance of life. The other road offered sweet peace." -Dan Fogelberg. September 6, for some, marked the beginning of a 4-year stay at Lynbrook, but for others, it was a chance to establish and enjoy a long awaited SENIORity. Seniors took it upon themselves to introduce the freshmen to high school life. Dummying the rally court, selling maps (an enourmous fund raiser of 75¢) rating the winter-clad frosh, estimating the days left of school, and. . .

"Don't be sad 'cause your sun is down the night doesn't need your sorrow. Don't be sad if the light is gone just keep your mind on tomorrow and carry on."

-James Taylor

wearing boxers and oxfords (and dresses) were among the Senior pranks. Sophomores, enjoying their ability to mention their non-frosh status (only a whisper, please) took the day in Burt (I mean Stride), while the new upper-classmen (alias Juniors) took notes in preparation of the following year.

For everyone, the day was one of adjustment—a start of an entirely new year; no more beach, no week-night late nights, and no more summer, instead, classes, early mornings, early nights and the dreaded homework. It did not take long for these misconceptions to be proven wrong . . . football games, dances, rallies, seeing old friends, were among the things anticipated in the first months of school.

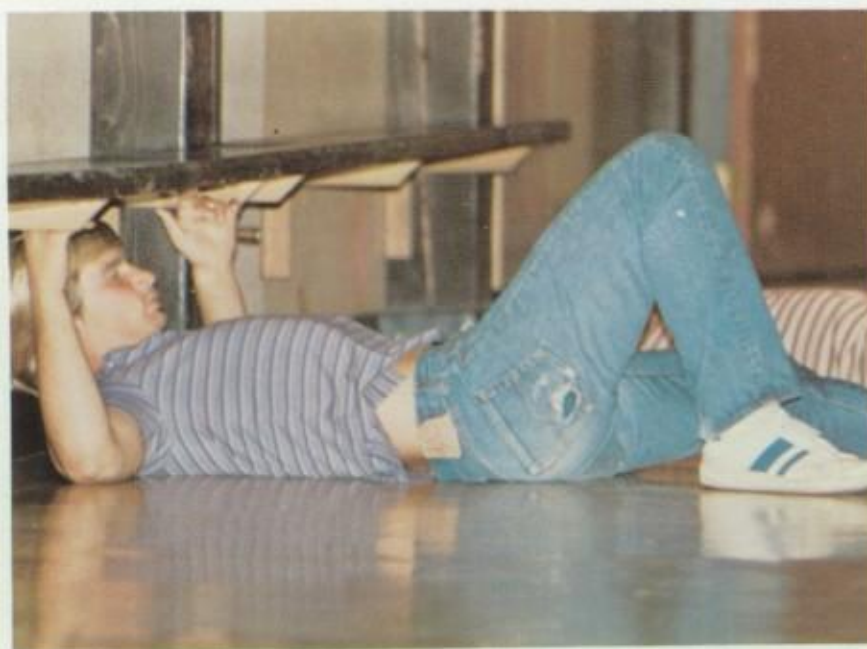

*"But somewhere down the road
our paths are gonna cross again, it doesn't really matter when."*

-Bob Seger

We discovered that Lynbrook was not such a bad place after all. Viking football returned at its finest (You, too, JV) with an incredible record and a rising CCS rank; Girls' "Hacky" lived up to their well-established reputation; and Water Polo received the highest rank by the Vikes since —? On and off the field is Lynbrook's marching band and Valkyries receiving, once again, numerous trophies at the Tournament of Bands. (Come on, you guys, this is getting old.)

"I like the love, and I like the peaceful, I wish everyone I know could stand in the Heartlight, I hold the hand, I walk with the teacher, we welcome in the morning, singing together . . ."

-Kenny Loggins

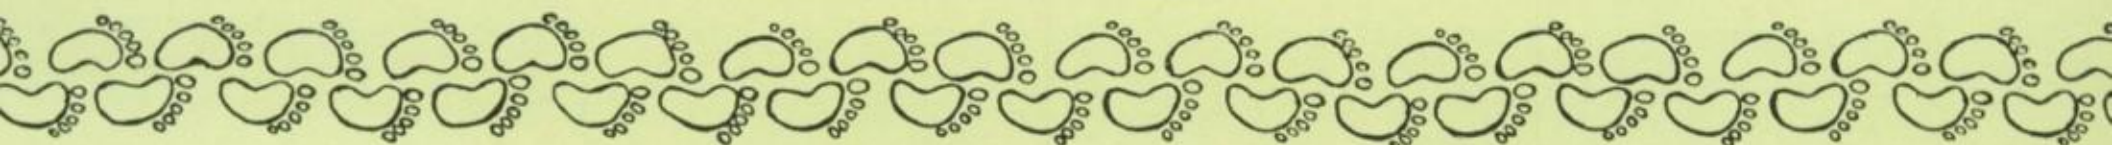

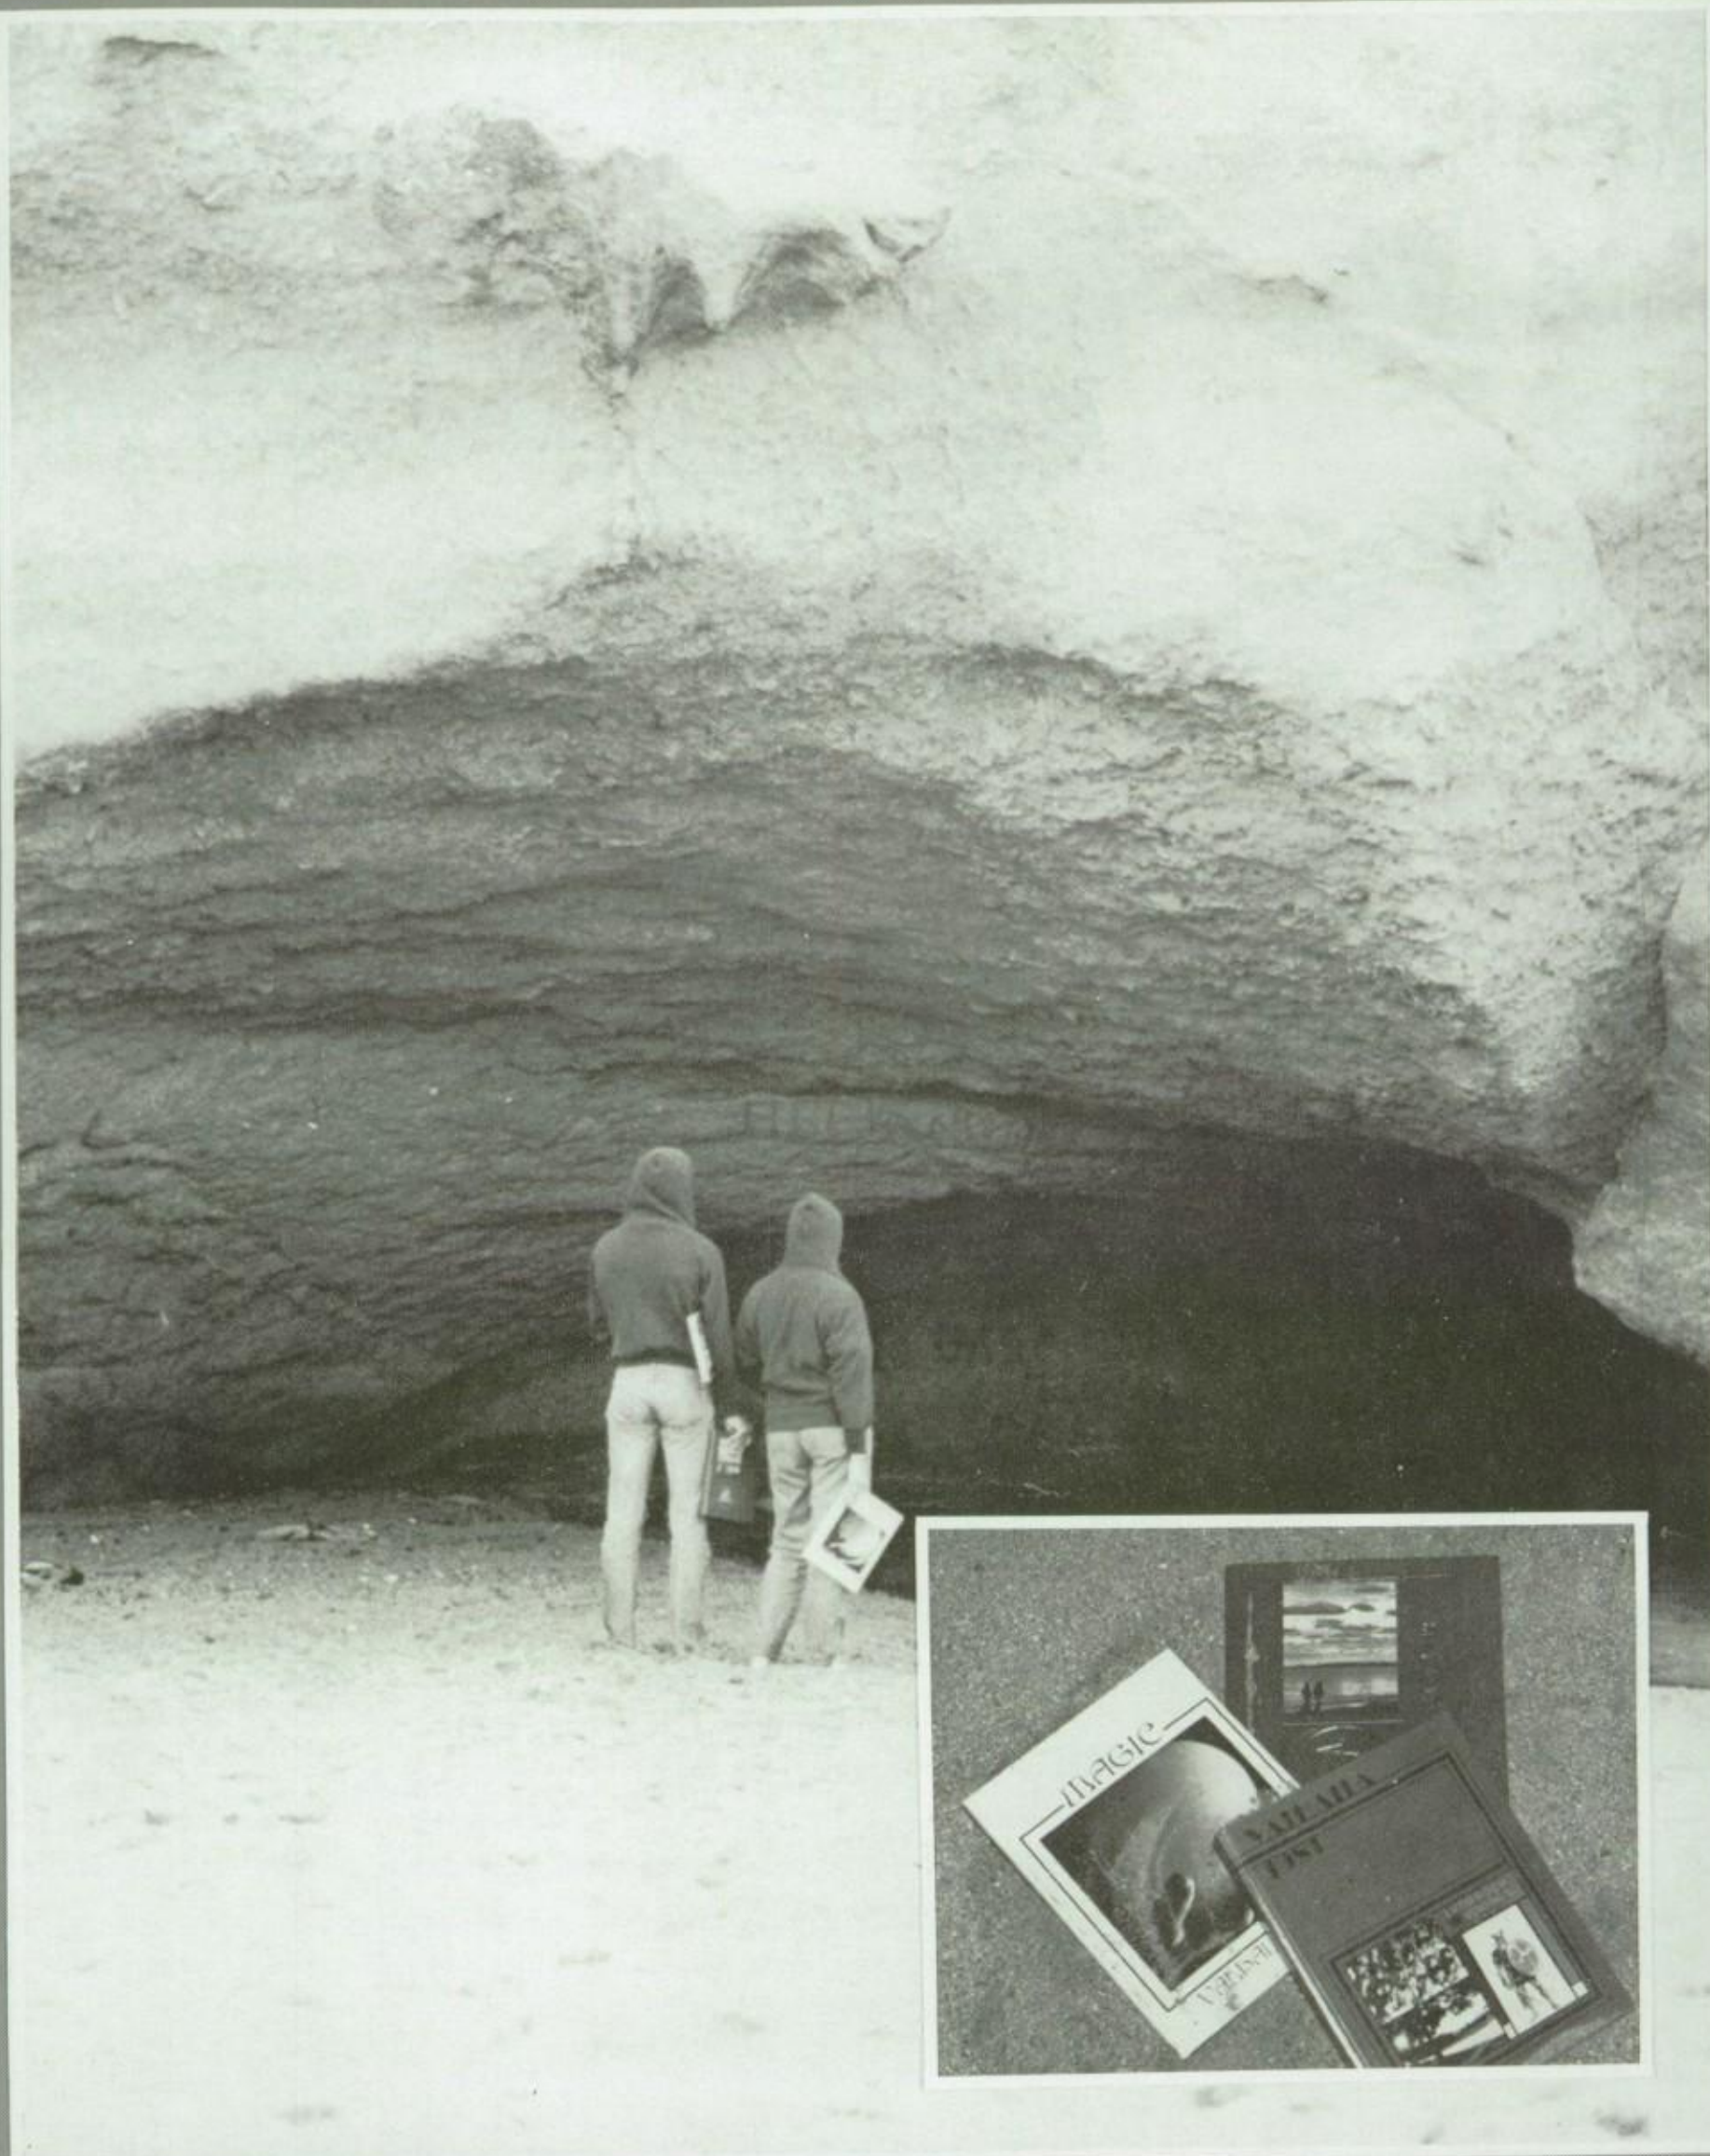

Lynbrook, for everybody, is more than a place to learn. We enjoy the everyday reunions with our friends, watching the latest fashions (Wool, but it's still at least 100 degrees outside!) and a chance to meet new people. Optimism is part of Lynbrook life and entering out passage into 1984 with the kind of spirit shown, exemplifies the coming of a great year.

"I want to get away, and live my life, to the rivers and trees. I want to spend my days making rhymes and be free."

-Kenny Loggins & Jim Messina

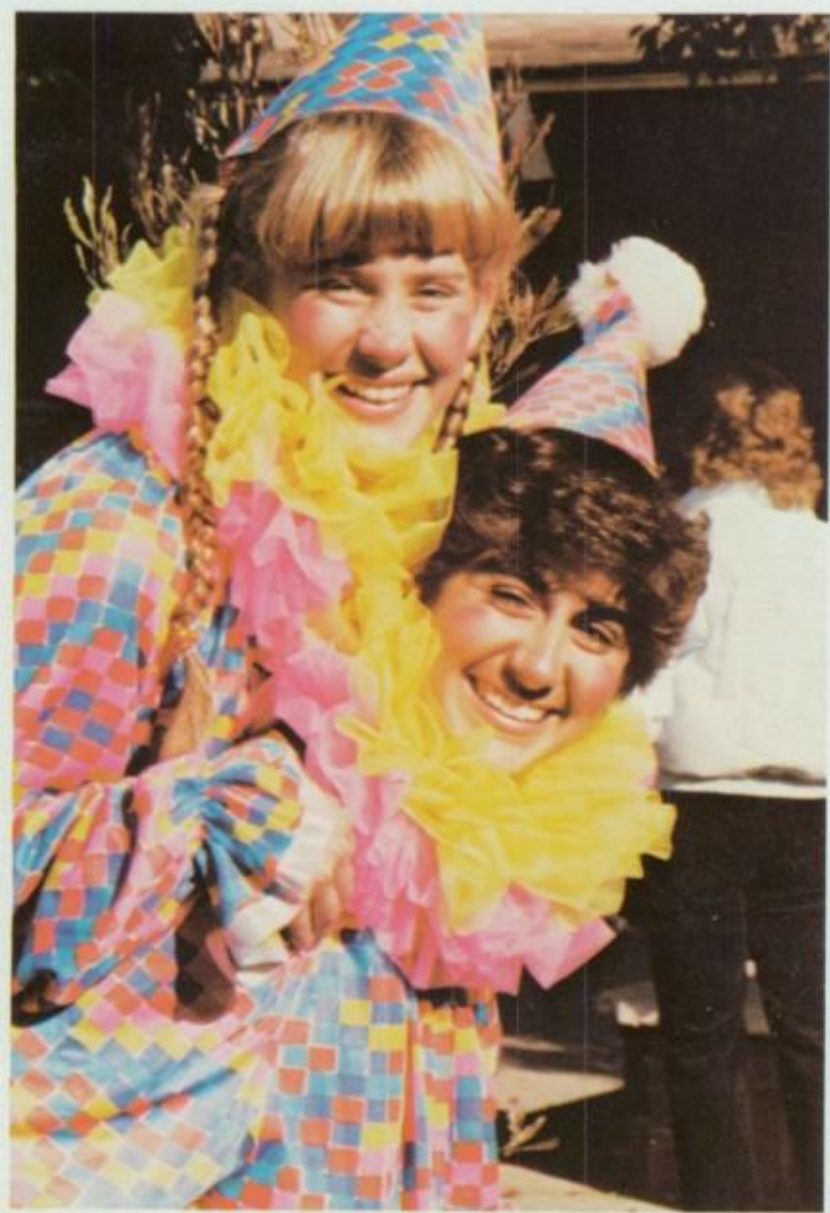

So Many Roads To Choose

... Student Life

Spirit week of 1983 was not something to be missed. The week started off with the freshmen and their idea of what prehistoric times looked like. (Nice job, frosh) Sophomores changed the rally court into an old time western town. As for the JUNIORS, their dreams, fantasies and nightmares came true. By Thursday, the presence of excellence was felt by every Lynbrook student. The SENIORS imagined their Greek Paradise, and it appeared. One might say the Class of '84 left an air of excellence not to be forgotten. Friday was red, white, and blue day that finished a highly spirited week.

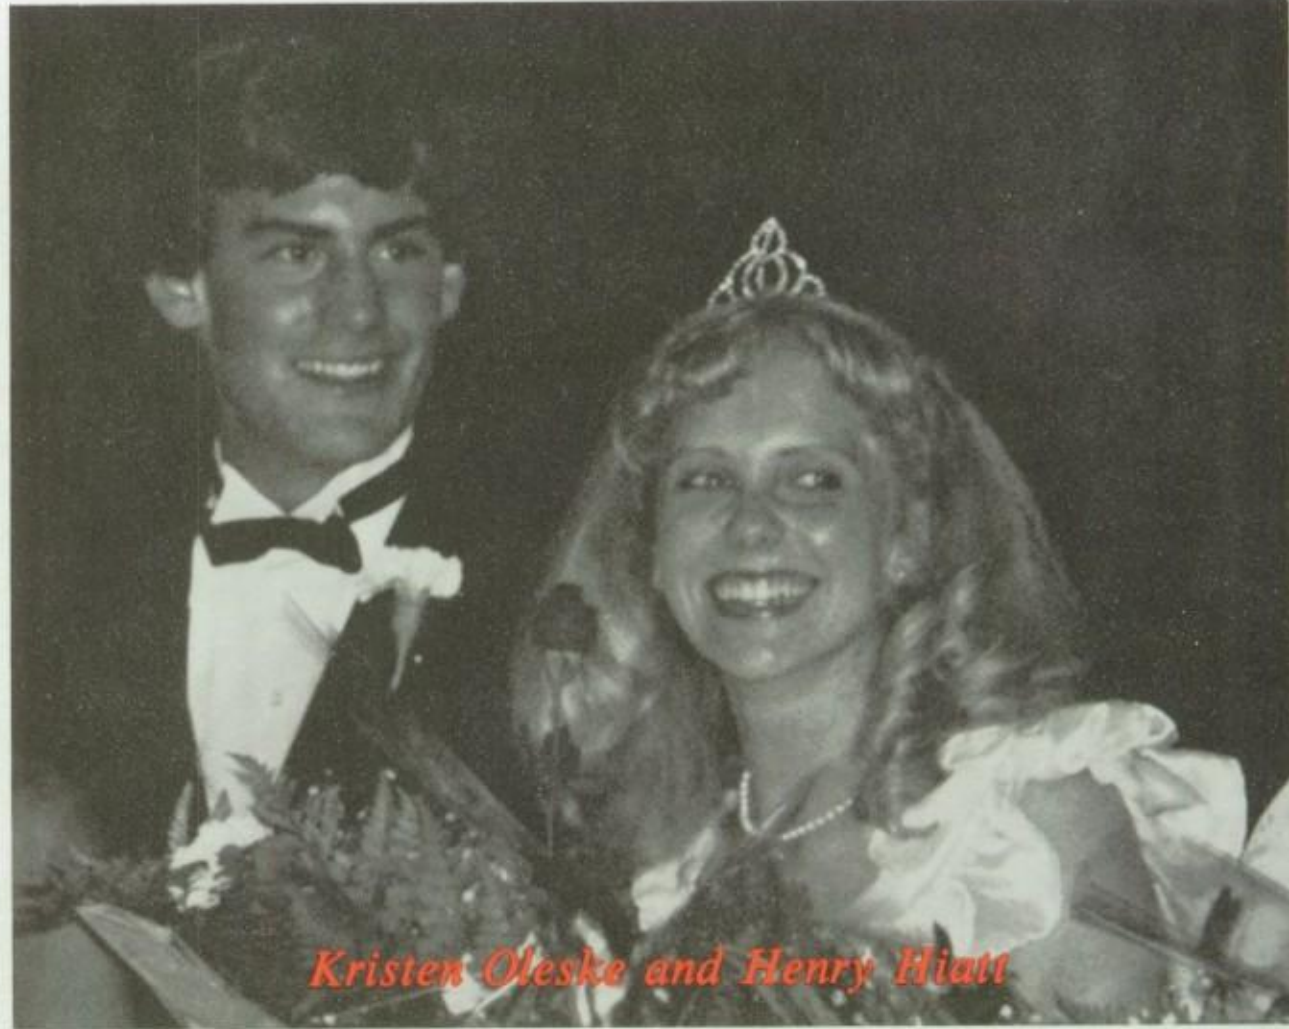

*Home for the holidays, I believe
I missed each and every face.
Play me one more song that I'll always remember. I can recall whenever I find myself too alone,
I can make believe I've never gone. Sing me home. . .*

*. . . Please, Celebrate me home!
-Kenny Loggins*

Homecoming 1983

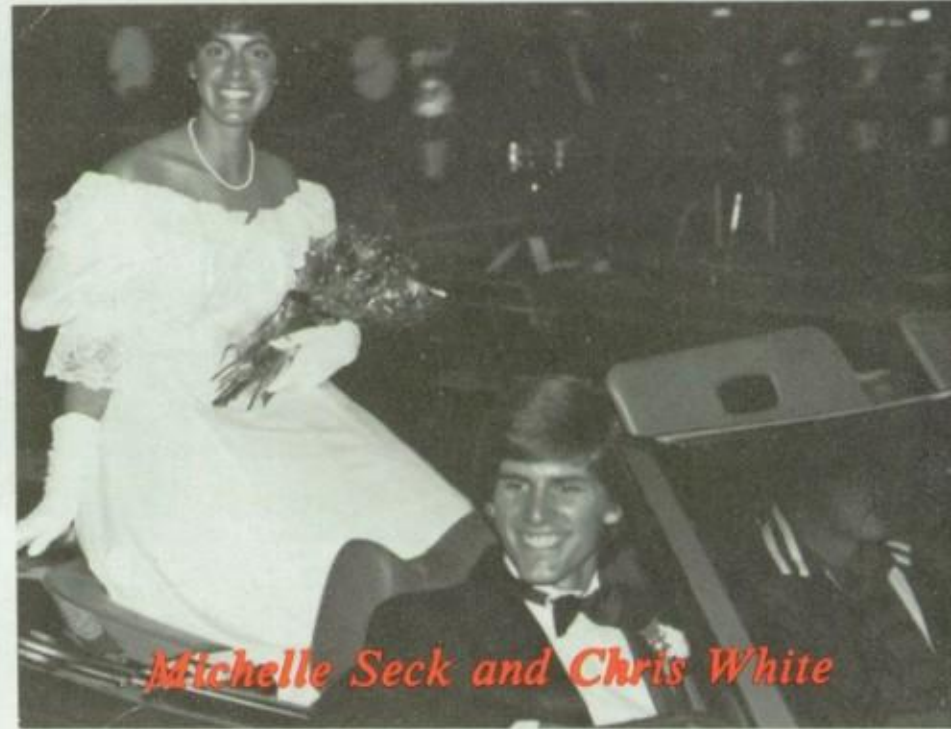

Once again, Lynbrook's Homecoming was seemingly flawless. Despite a few back-stage mishaps throughout the weekend, everyone was enjoying themselves. Michelle was worried about White being late (How long does it take for undies to dry??) Then, Rich thought that he, too, could be Queen, showing up in his best black nylons. Karyn (Muscles) had as little difficulty holding onto her flowers. Finally, the highlight of the evening was Mr. White showing off his never-ending talents by doing his Chewy imitation. Aside from the behind-the-scenes fun, everything went smoothly. The princesses looked radiant and the Greek Gods (OOPS, I mean escorts) stunned everyone in their BLACK tuxes. The procession was led by the '82 Queen Jessica Lowe escorted by Dan Campbell. The Underclass princesses followed. They were Karyn Hillman, Kelley Garrett, and Janet Buckstad escorted by Richard Schmeer, Johnny-On-The-Spot Horton and

Kristen Oleske and Henry Hiatt

Mimie Mardrossian and Andy Peirona

Michelle Seck and Chris White

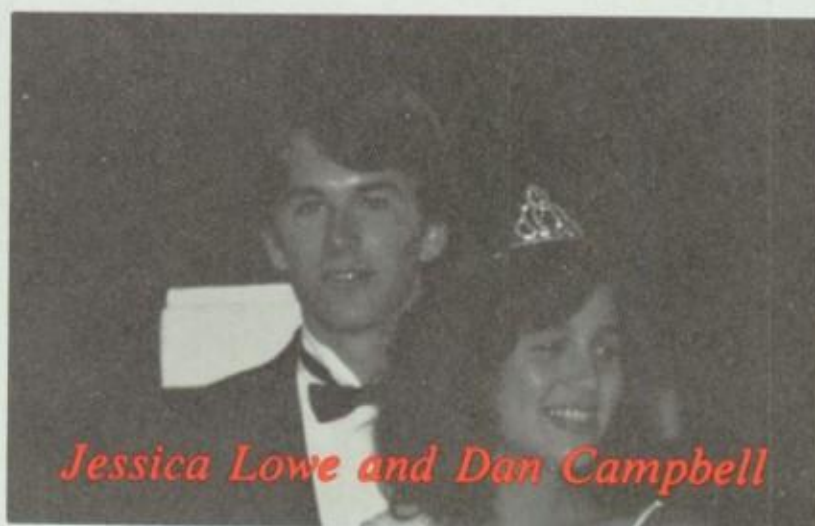

"If you're blue and you don't know where to go to Why don't you go where fashion sits? Putting on the Ritz."

"...Dressed up like a million dollar trooper, trying hard to look like Gary Cooper (Super Duper) ... Putting on the Ritz."

-Irving Berlin

Chris Logue. With the Senior princesses, Mimie Mardrossian, Michelle Seck, and Kristen Oleske, there was a Presence of Excellence. Their escorts were Andy P. Peirona, Chris White, and Henry Hiatt. Although we suffered a defeat at the hands of Saratoga, the spirits of the Lynbrook students and alumni were high, especially when the '83 Queen was announced ... Kristen Oleske.

The scarcity of rallies this year only proved to make the ones we did have better! Combining high spirits and loud voices, the classes were able to get rid of their anxiety and show their stuff!! Designed to root on the Viking teams, rallies also gave the spirit leaders, band, Valkyries, and various spectators the chance to be recognized. Infrequent guests (i.e. the Saratoga football team) visited Lynbrook and upped Lynbrook spirit, giving the players an extra boost. Let's go Vikes!!! As a whole, rallies were a great reason to go crazy and act . . . well . . . like a Freshman!!!

The Rally

"Let me entertain you, let me make you smile, let me do a few tricks, some old and then some new tricks, I want your SPIRIT to climb-Yes Sir, we'll have a real good time."

-Gypsy

Around the World

March 2, 1984 was the night Lynbrook took a trip around the world. Yes, it was that time again . . . Sadie Hawkins time. The girls started preparing early, asking dates, deciding on costumes, and planning their evenings. As usual, the costumes were done with a certain flair (Attention K Mart Shoppers . . .). The evening, for most, began with a dinner for two (or four, or six . . .). "Where should we eat?" was the question of the evening. "Friday's? Chili's? La Mere Michelle? Jack in the Box?" After dinner, there was a rush to the dance. Before the couples could take to the dancing floor, there were pictures and the marriage ritual (performed by Rev. Rode). Finally, it was time to dance. The floor was filled (well, maybe not exactly filled) with tourists, Greeks, Matadors and Flamingo dancers, a Globe and a Balloon, and even a tooth with its brush! The evening was a success, but . . . What happened to Mr. Irresistable??

Before the world awakens every Tuesday morning, a select group of dedicated LHS students assemble in the Exec. Room to discuss the latest in Lynbrook affairs; everything from carnation sales to dances to the fly in Kristen's hair. Despite the minor detail that most of these students were half asleep at 7:15 am., somehow, someway, things were accomplished. Thanks to our A.S.B. Officers, Lynbrook students were informed of important matters, such as the TV 20 Dance Party (Sorry, guys, the show went off the air). As always, there were problems with unruly Leg. Reps. and, unbelievable as it may seem, some 2nd periods did not receive reports; but aside from these minor problems, A.S.B. was more organized than ever before, leading to a very productive year. Good job, A.S.B.!

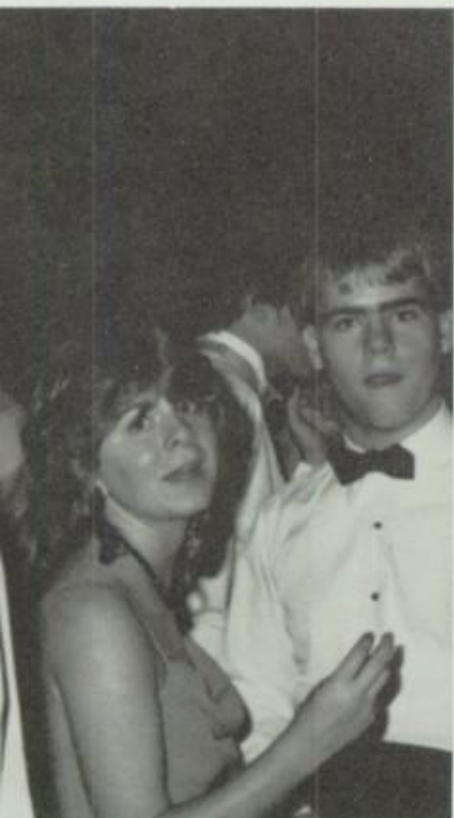

A Winter Passage

For most of the world, the evening of December 22 was an ordinary night, but for an elite group (the LHS students), it was a night full of romance and fun, the Winter Formal. For once, the evening went without a hitch; no major power outages, no storms, and, of course, dinner was not included. Without any of these problems, the couples were forced to get onto the matter at hand- having fun. The band was Legend and smiling couples danced everywhere. For all, it was a night to be long remembered, even for those hanging out at Sam Wu's. (There's always the Senior Ball, chicas!)

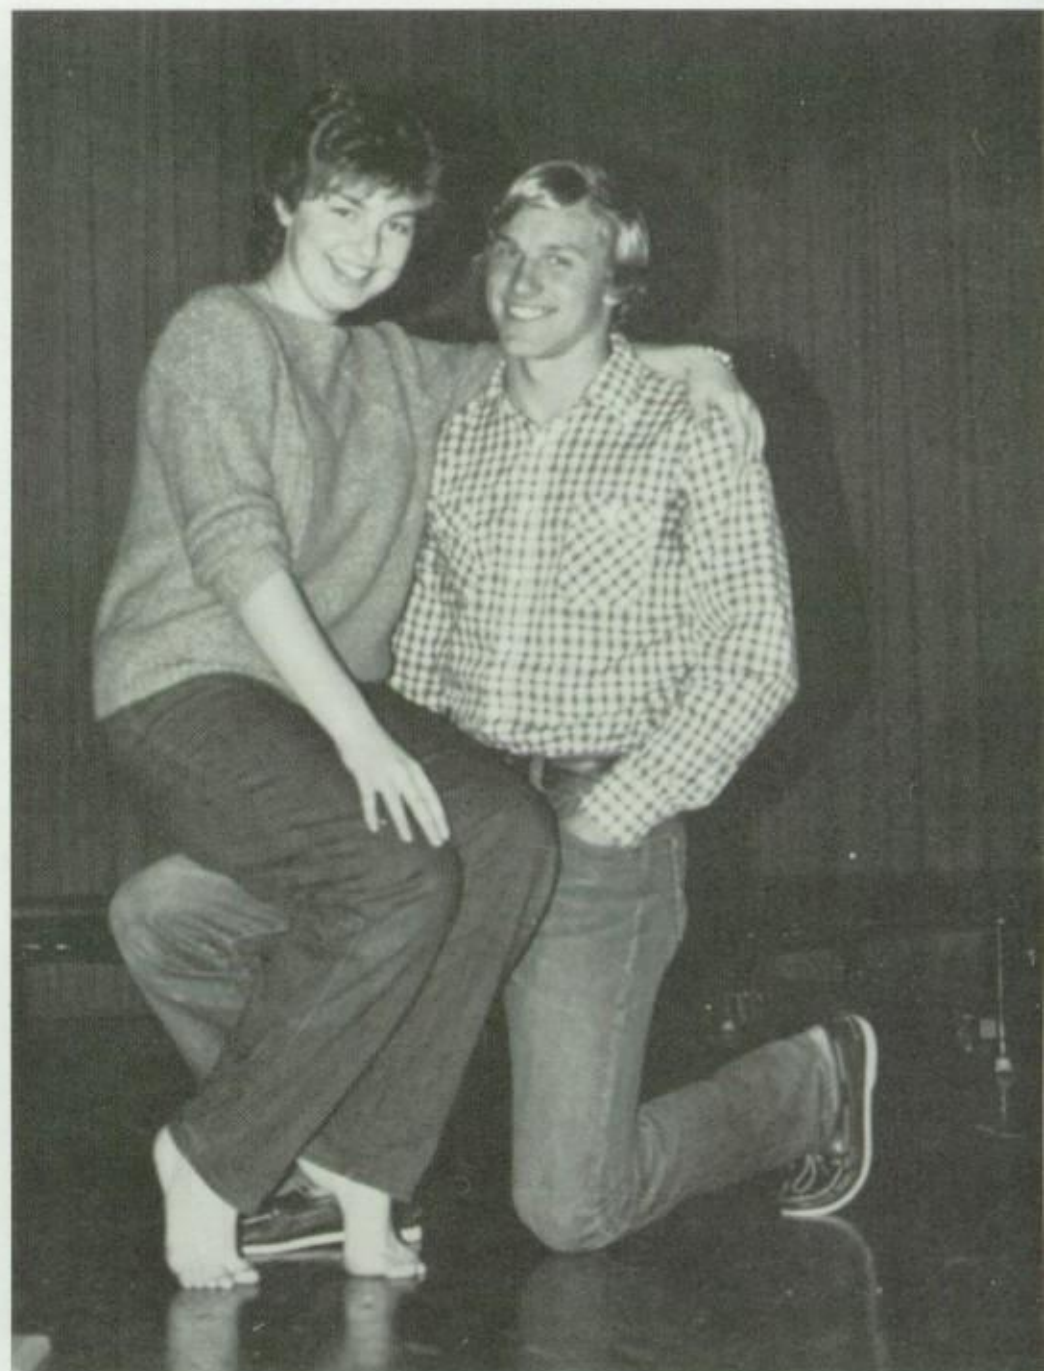

An Old Fashioned Christmas

This year Lynbrook's Music Department decided to break away from the traditional fall musical and bring back an old tradition. Under the direction of Lois Vidt, Larry Marx and Larry Bargetto (known to most of his students as Barge), the X-mas pageant involving vocal and instrumental music, actors portraying still-life Christmas scenes, and beautiful scenery and costumes was presented on December 13 and 15, 1983. The pageant was an instant success thanks to the help of Roxanne who managed to keep everyone laughing. Lucky for us, the audience could not tell (or hear) that we were hardly standing still. Considering the strenuous auditions that consisted of doing everything from standing on stage to standing on stage, it is not surprising that no one could keep a straight face. All in all, the pageant managed to spread the Christmas spirit.

South Pacific Sets Sail at Lynbrook

Yes, as eagerly anticipated, the musical has finally arrived. "But it is now Spring," we all say. Well, there were a few rough waves along the way. It was doubtful in the minds of some if Lynbrook would even have a musical this year. We needed to find two well-qualified people to take on the tasks of developing the singing and choreography. Then there was the question of what musical to do. Finally, a cast needed to be selected from the talented who tried out. That promoted no problem, however, for the talent seemed to come out of the woodwork. (Steve, you never told us you could dance, act, and sing!) Although the rehearsals were often long and very hard work, the cast also managed to have fun. There were jokes and crazy comments galore. (John, you look extremely sexy in that coconut bikini and grass skirt!) Ingrid had washed that man out of her hair so many times that her hair began to fall out. Nevertheless, the cast of South Pacific set sail. Bon Voyage!

Taking The Lead

Derek Utter- Vice President
Laura Whitten- Secretary

Mindy Sakoi- Treasurer

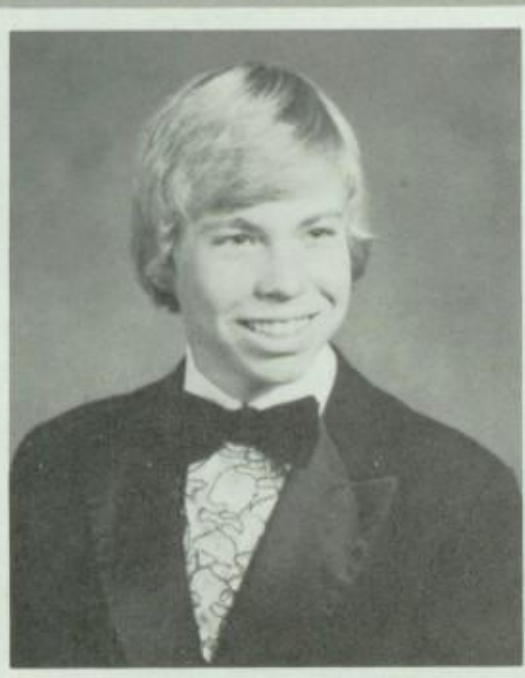

All over campus, there were complaints that there is not enough going on. One group was diligently trying to solve this dilemma . . . Exec. Council. As fall quickly turned to spring, new commissioners took over, taking on the trials of their predecessors. It is easy to say that something should be done, but no one, except Exec., realized how much hard work went into the smallest event. Under the leadership of Kristin, Derek, Laura, and Mindy, there was a strange phenomenon-Sudden Organization. Yes, believe it or not, Student Government was ORGANIZED! If this year was any indication of the future, the students of Lynbrook are in good shape.

Four years ago, 1984 seemed a lifetime away. Now, however, for 423 ex-freshmen, graduation approaches all too soon. 1984 is the year for us to begin the pursuit of the dreams made throughout our high school years. The time has come for us to move on, only to look back at the good times we have had at Lynbrook. Perhaps, strongest in our minds remain the memories of our senior year. The Juniors dreams became our nightmares as we suffered an upset defeat at our Homecoming (Oh well). However, this didn't damper our SPIRITS as we, the Seniors, fought back to win consecutive rallies. (Burned you, '85!) We have been told by previous graduating classes that our senior year will fly by, but that never seemed possible, until now. We know we will inevitably be separated from our friends, but the closest of them will always be with us in our hearts. Although our years at Lynbrook have come to a close, the presence of our excellence will always remain.

Vikings Best Season Ever

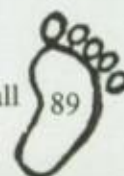

J. Hitchman

The '83 varsity football team had a sensational season. Their successes were due to the combined efforts of an exciting offense and a stubborn defense. The running attack was led by the versatility of running backs Brian "Mow 'em Down" Hays and Jim "The Lat Mobile" Latter. Aerial onslaughts were exciting to watch when the Hoffman to Pruett, to Blaschke, to Chope connections were completed. Holding out the enemy forces in the trenches, were "The Invincible Five" which held off the persistence of some of the leagues finest. Resisting the attacks of our worthy offensive opponents were such defensive standouts as Steve "The Animal" Andris and Chris "Hacksaw" Saxen. The overall precision of the Vikings offensive and defensive squads led them to their winningest season ever!

Ah . . . the sweet feeling of success!! Lynbrook's Soph/Frosh football team played the best season in years. With a near-perfect record of 8-1-1, Lynbrook finished the season number one in DAL's!! (who said MV was going to be tough?!) Leading the offense was "Hands" Hoffman, Marty "Twinkletoes" Mildbrandt, and Dave "Bird Brain" Andris. But, as we soon found out, scoring was not the only thing Lynbrook could do. The "Powerhouse" (alias defense) included Augie "doggie" Munoz, "Vosco" Pardini, and "Marvelous Mark" Musgrave succeeded in keeping the opponents score down. Good job Vikes!! Talent and sweat was extracted by the credible coaching trio of Rode, Halliday, and Verbrugge, who always managed to keep practice interesting, and long! Occassional serenades by spiritleaders (we love you 85!) made each game new and exciting!! All in all, it was a great season! 1-2-3 . . . LET'S GO VIKES!!!

Spike It To 'Em

The girls' volleyball team got off to a great start. They began the season by winning their first three games no sweat. What happened next is another story though. Jackie decided to dive thumb first for the ball, Lynn's finger was bitten by a car door, and Angela's knee didn't like the position it was in. Subsequently, Nancy was moved up to varsity due to injuries and did a great job.

Junior Varsity

Despite the mishaps, the lady Vikes were very determined and always on the ball (no pun intended.) All in all, it was a very memorable season. Especially those late nights after the game. Right Grunt?

Young and Running Strong

Despite the fact that Lynbrook's Cross Country team had only one returning senior, Michelle Seck, they had a good season this year. They passed from "looking into the future" to growing with experience. Coach Thronburg was very pleased with the results of all of the races at the De Anza League Championships. The boy's varsity team led by a young but strong group of juniors (Kirk Mansfield, Frank Martin, Andy "Moscow" Ruskow, and Mike West), placed second at DAL's. The top four girl cross countryers (Michelle Seck, Lisa Membrano, Paula Romeo, and Carol Stephenson) led the Vikes to their third place finish at DAL's. This along with their defeat of Saratoga was accomplished by the girls for the first time. Great job runners. Remember, you can only grow stronger as you pass into the future years.

Polo Shoots for First

With an experienced senior dominating lineup, the Viking polo team seemed to be assured of a great season this year. Preserving a once famed "Unbeatable Team" the Vikes kept up their winning tradition by compiling a 6-2 league record (2nd in DAL's). With Steve Williams and Mike Trejo leading the way, the team finished the season as one of the top three teams in the C.C.S. Though, the PASSAGE to success didn't come easy to the SP's (super polo players?), finding their way to morning workouts seemed impossible (right, Steve?), and the constant fear of not being able to wake up during 1st period presented many problems. The usual misunderstandings (Mr. Stride, "I swear there's a tournament today.") occurred and the sudden injuries during conditioning, (coach, I smashed my finger against the cage.) were all but forgotten throughout the season. As the end approached, no one could turn in their speedo without giving thanks to Peter Keis for knowing all the names, cap numbers and telephone numbers of all the opposing players. To a winning team: I'm proud of you, coach is proud of you and most of all "Neds" proud of you.

Confucious say . . . Lynbrook Hockey kicks hinney. With only four returning Varsity players, Lynbrook had an almost rookie team. Struggling with the reputation of three past CCS titles, the new team had to make their own unique way. With a team full of individuals, they had to choose between a PASSAGE alone or the PASSAGE together which would lead to victory. Breakfast at CoCo's before M.V. (ribbons for good luck!) Spaghetti before Saratoga, and carnationas unified the team, especially the Chico tournament. Stobe, it's not who --'s first, it's who is willing to sacrafice butt tissue. Nice tatoo job, guys. Nichols, what's that red stuff on your face? Oh no, How is she gonna get us back? (I'll take my eggs scrambled) Stober, I think we need to buy some rockets. 4-B, you're the worst. All the laughter and fond memories carried the Vikes through the season, and contributed to a 2nd place finish in DAL's and a trip to CCS. Once again J.V. remained on top, finishing their 4th straight season as DAL champs! Likewise, Stober kept up the tradition of 20 . . . 21 . . . 22 . . . back in 66-" We wanted to win, to what, to win, to what, to win. Oh . . . to win- and we did win!

This years girls varsity tennis team (alias Flaming Biscuits,) showed no mercy to their opponents. Singles star sophomore Cynthia Cook, and the first seated varsity M&M team, led this years girls to an almost undefeated season, (we could have won 'em all, but those Saratogians all have courts in their backyards.) J.V. faired well considering the circumstances that surrounded them, (Speedy Gonzales and all those freshmen.) The J.V. M&M sisters made a great showing, but it was Prince Pros who led the team to their rare victories.

Falling Biscuits

The mighty wrestler is not just another athlete; to be a wrestler one must have strength, intelligence, and a will to survive. The '83-'84 Wrestling Team put all these together and came up with an unbeatable team, with Craig Tiffany, Ted Wolf, and Scott "Bahamama" Benson leading the way. But what is a great team without equally as great coaches? This year they had the matchless trio of Talbot, Talbot and good ol' Rudy.

Vikes Tip-Off Another Season!

Jamo Latter

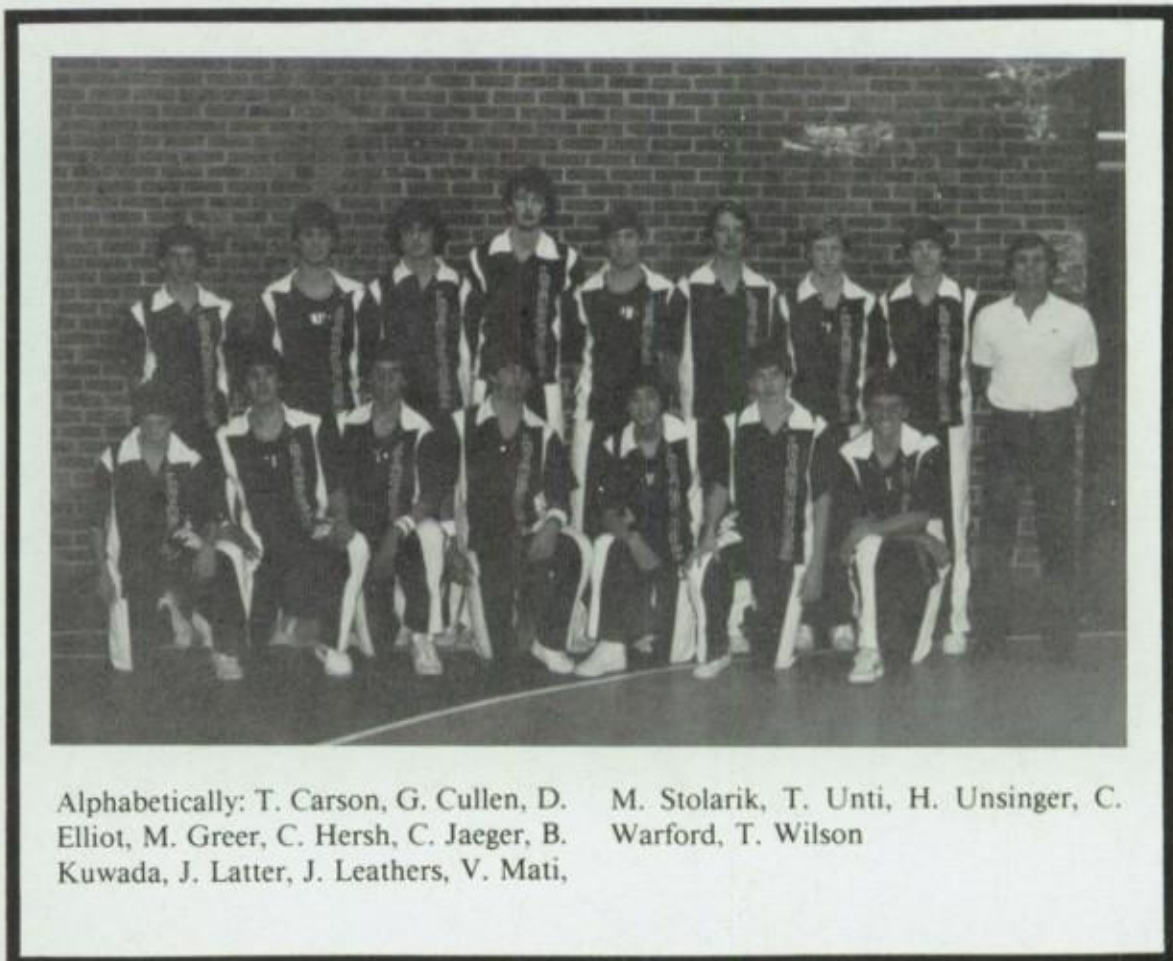

The 1984 Varsity Basketball team led by newcomer coach Doug Oliver jumped into the season winning five of its first six games. Even though this year's squad has many new faces, the leadership of Tony Unti, Tom Carson, and Jim Latter has made a great difference in the team's performance. The JV squad headed by second year coach Mark Miller also started out well. Some key players for the Viking JV's were Mike Huber and Chris Carson. Based on the Vikes very fast start, every indicator pointed to a very successful season.

Girls Soccer-A Fighting Contender

Well, girls, we got off to a bit of a slow start, wouldn't you say? Things just weren't going our way. Maybe it was the bad attitude they talk about, but we were playing football like pros! Everyday, gotta be there at 2:15 . . . or 2:30 . . . or 3:00 . . . to practice the long bomb, the screen play, the Dwight Clark super catch. At the Mitty Tourney, well, we're sorry we're late, but Greg just broke up the wedding, and he and Jenny ran off, and how could we miss that? But this time when the whistle blows, it'll be a new start for the Vikes. Jill, heads: Laura, tails: heads OK?

So, we get together, a couple of terrific SENIORS, a lot of juniors, a few sophomores, and a bunch of freshmen (No, Michelle, '87 is not the best!) and we turn ourselves around. We've always had winning in our blood (except for five years ago when we were only a mediocre team, but then-heck, we all know that story, huh?) and that won't stop now. We'll make it. Because we all know that girls soccer belongs to Lynbrook.

This years Lynbrook Varsity Soccer team proved to be a dominate force in the DAL's. With only four returning seniors the Varsity team played outstanding. With help from Finlander Andy Nickula, Dan Campbell, Tom Avakian, and T. McElveny the Vikings were assured to be a stiff competitor to the opposition. Lynbrooks future-J.V. Soccer Team also finished the season in high spirits by compiling an impressive record. Viking Soccer has always been strong and this years teams made no exception.

Dave Pugh led the Vikes to a victorious season, which could be the reason for badminton's growing popularity at Lynbrook. He continued workouts including vigorous conditioning, but increased Lynbrook's status as well: The Possibility of matching uniforms and numbered courts ("Now we look like a team not a P.E. class") Liz Phirip. (One of 1983's MVP's) returned to pass on her badminton talents. Although the Vikes did not score high on Gunn's courts, Stoffer scored big at their refreshment table (really cleaned um out Kirk!). 1984 brought plenty of returning Varsity as well as a large Frosh-Soph turnout. Lynbrook badminton proves to be one of the finest this year and for the years to come.

Off to a swinging start!

Inspired by a new, and very impressive looking diamond, softball was all ready to go out and show 'em what they could do. Of course there was lots of hard work to suffer through, but quite uniquely, the girls' softball teams were able to combine that hard work with a lot of fun! But when you have a teammate like Margaret (otherwise known as T.W.), how can you help but laugh? Nely, you look beautiful in your hat you know. And, Heath, you know you do look like Harriet, and they say Kristin is definitely a Bertha. In any case, there is no doubt in our minds that LHS softball can't help but be a huge hit this year with all the talent they have!

What a "Racket"

It is obvious just by watching the boy's tennis team practice after school that they have fun. Work? Well, there is some of that too. The Varsity team is stronger this year, winning all four of their pre-season matches. The Varsity team is under the new direction of Coach Mayer and J.V. under Coach Evans. Since Varsity is made up of all juniors with the exception of two seniors and one sophomore, they are looking forward to another strong season next year. Their first league match is against Saratoga. Do it for Bernie, guys! If you take off your varnats long enough, you may find out "where's the beef!"

Stealing the Show!

The 1984 Viking Baseball team started off it's best season in recent years with an 8-1 record. Much of their success can be attributed to eleven returning varsity members. After tying for second place in the DAL the previous year, the team seems to be headed for another tight finish for the league championship. One surprising standout this year for the team was that of sophomore pitcher Scott Morehouse. In his first game as a varsity pitcher Scott threw a perfect game, which at any level of baseball is very rare and unusual. Other key players on the team included Brian Hoffman, Chris Saxen, Jim Latter, and Andy Peirona, all of which played important roles in the success of the team.

Swimming with Success

Once again this years Viking swim team swam to the top. The Varsity team was well rounded this year with strong returners including: Steve Williams, Steve Eischen, and Junior Perry Wu. Complete exhaustion, lack of sleep, and coach Barnetts great motivational remarks (Mike, get up with the winners, Logue, you're a CANDY, and get to work this isn't a social hour.) were definitely the highlights of the season. With fast swimmers and a lot of depth, this years Varsity team had an almost unbeatable edge for the competitors. The Frosh-Soph team also had a bright outlook. With a record breaking turnout of swimmers coach Dave Ikawa seemed assured of another DAL Championship. To Coach Barnett and Dave: This years Aquatics teams reflect your excellence in coaching the past four years and with the results being very impressive Lynbrook hopes to see you in the years to come.

Making "Track"s towards Success

Track is one of the few sports where such diversities of special abilities are brought together in one team. Where else can you bring together a 200 pound linebacker and a 100 pound cross-country runner and have them equally important to the success of the team. The 1984 track team had both of these athletes. Mr. Piercall, the head coach, wasn't used to the relaxed atmosphere of the athletes. So when he blew his whistle he expected everyone to jump to attention, but it didn't phase a one. He soon learned that the track team can work sufficiently without a large amount of discipline. But they did have enough discipline to have a successful season.

The Team

Congratulations CCS Competitors.

There are those who excel in academics as well as those who excel in athletics. The 1983-84 Valhalla would like to recognize those teams who have combined coaching, vigorous training, support and natural ability to achieve a well earned CCS finish.

We apologize to the Spring Sports who were not well enough into the season to predict their finish. There are those however, that are CCS Hopefuls:

Swimming (S. Eichen, C. Logue, S. Williams, P. Wu.) Track (A. Nicula, M. West, C. White; Boy's Varsity Relay Team-B. Blaschke, T. Salem, R. Smith, C. White.

H₂O POLO

Led by Mike Trejo and Steve Williams, the LHS Water Polo team made a valiant effort to overcome the opposition they faced in CCS. In the first round, Barnett and the boys demolished three competitors and went on to the semi-finals. Their first game in the finals was against Bellarmine who had a good game and edged out Lynbrook giving them a fourth place finish in CCS. Way to go SP's!

"We're Proud, uh huh
Say it again
L . . . H . . . S"

Although Lynbrook's Varsity Football team did not finish in the top two in the league, the record was eight wins, one tie and one loss. This record for 1983 is the best record Lynbrook has ever achieved. Victories over other league champions was the ticket to CCS for the Vikings. However, they were overcome by Oak Grove in the first round of CCS.

Soccer Shoots WHERE IT COUNTS!

After defeating Homestead in the playoffs 3-0, 1984 Boy's Varsity Soccer team became Lynbrook's first to finish in CCS. They went on to play a grueling game against Palo Alto where the competition was matched. Lynbrook was forced to leave Palo Alto without two of its lead players: Donny McIntosh and MVP, Lynbrook record setter, Dan Campbell. Despite the loss of such teammates, Lynbrook's Vikings pulled together and pushed Palo Alto into overtime. Goalie, Terrance McElveny deflected Palo Alto's shots playing his best game of the season. Overtime ended in a 1-0 win for the opponent. However, the Viking spirit was not extinguished because after all, having not been previously ranked in CCS, Lynbrook finished as CCS competitors!

HOCKEY RAH

Through mud, rain, and what seemed like a hurricane Lynbrook's "Hacky" girls did their best to defend their CCS title- ("... that looks familiar.") Some doubted a CCS finish for Lynbrook this year. While others remained confident ("Yes, yes CCS Lynbrook Hockey is the best!!") Making their way to finals they trampled over Capachino in the first round and stomped out Branham in their second game placing Lynbrook in the CCS semi-finals. The final game was against Gilroy and when the final whistle blew, the score was tied 1-1. In the flick-off, after two ten minute overtimes, Gilroy managed to push across more goals than Lynbrook to give LHS a second place finish in CCS. But, "Here's to the best team in CCS.", right Stobe?

SHOOTING FOR CCS

The Vikings girls basketball team coached by Linda Nichols surely had a stupendous 1984 season. With standouts, Heather Unsinger and Suzanne Neubauer, the team came in first in DAL's only to be defeated by Wilcox in the first round of CCS. All in all the Vikings had a hard-working and satisfying year. But, "where's the BEEF???" P.S. sorry no pictures.

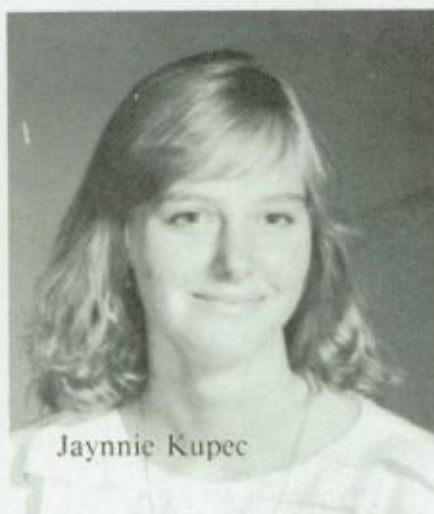

In the Passage, we live the passing of time and grieve the passing of life. This year, it seems more than ever, there have been those so close to us who have passed on leaving behind their precious memory and increasing our meaning of life.

Valhalla 1983-84 is dedicated to those students who have been affected both directly and indirectly by unexpected tragedies. We extend our sympathy to the families and friends of loved ones lost.

Opportunity With CEBAS

The Community-Experiential Based Alternative School (CEBAS) is a one semester alternative that is available to eleventh and twelfth grade students from any school in the Fremont Union High School District. CEBAS is a supplement to the regular school programs, not a substitute for them. This program uses the total community as an educational environment and emphasises learning through experience. CEBAS students learn through a variety of experiences that are made possible by the program's unique nature. Students are in the CEBAS program from 8:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. daily. Although they generally do not take other classes at their "home" schools, CEBAS students are eligible to participate in sports, clubs and other activities in their "home school." Through successful completion of one semester in CEBAS, students earn one semester of elective credit in each of the following areas: English, Science, P.E., Home Economics, Extended Field Studies and Social Studies.

ESPRIT

GETTING FASHIONABLE

Mini skirts were back, in denim and all shades (and lengths) to be worn with high heels, tights and clingy sweaters. Coming back as well were the fads of the fifties, pumps, penny loafers, polka dots, carnigans, over-sized sweaters, and fitted jeans.

Looking across Lynbrook one will notice lately the primary color has been Argyle. Sweaters, vests and socks have been painted with argyles small, large, subtle and bold.

Who would have thought that a little itsy bitsy teeny tiny ball (hacky) would get so much attention? Lynbrook breaks for some have been spent "playing hacky" where almost anything goes except the forbidden "hacky sin" (serving to yourself) just as groups gathered around hacky, so they gathered the infamous 7-11 (who would have that a little ...?) Weekends were spent "cruzin Sev" (of all places) until things were broken up with the words "buy or fly" (hmm, does that remind anyone of Round Table days?)

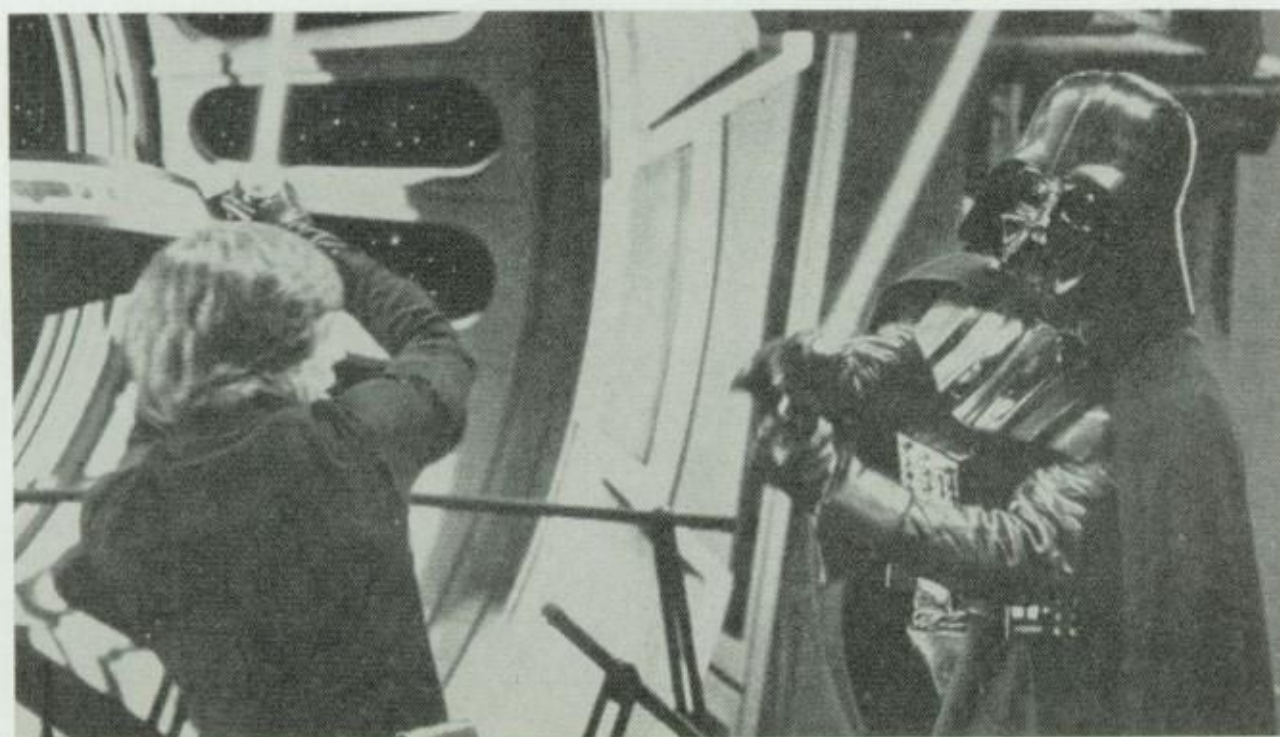

A LOOK AT 83-84

It was a year to let 'er rip! Torn fashions- featured in Flashdance- included oversize sweatshirts with the neckline ripped and a lot of shoulder exposed. Flashdance also encouraged a year of dance, nautilus and aerobics. Sweat was in as some worked vigorously to tone and define. Others spent their time gazing at calendars featuring those well "defined"! Shoppers reached for the boldest of accessories including colored nylons, wide belts, big earrings, bangles, and bobbles, a of which came in an array of bright colors. Esprit stayed with us to show off their brightest stripes, spots and co-ordinates. A variety of hats rose to the top of the fashions to put the finishing touch on any style. Lynbrook students walked through 83-84 in pumps, plastic shoes, "duck" shoes and astroturf shoes as well as traditional topsiders and penny loafers.

The Year On Screen

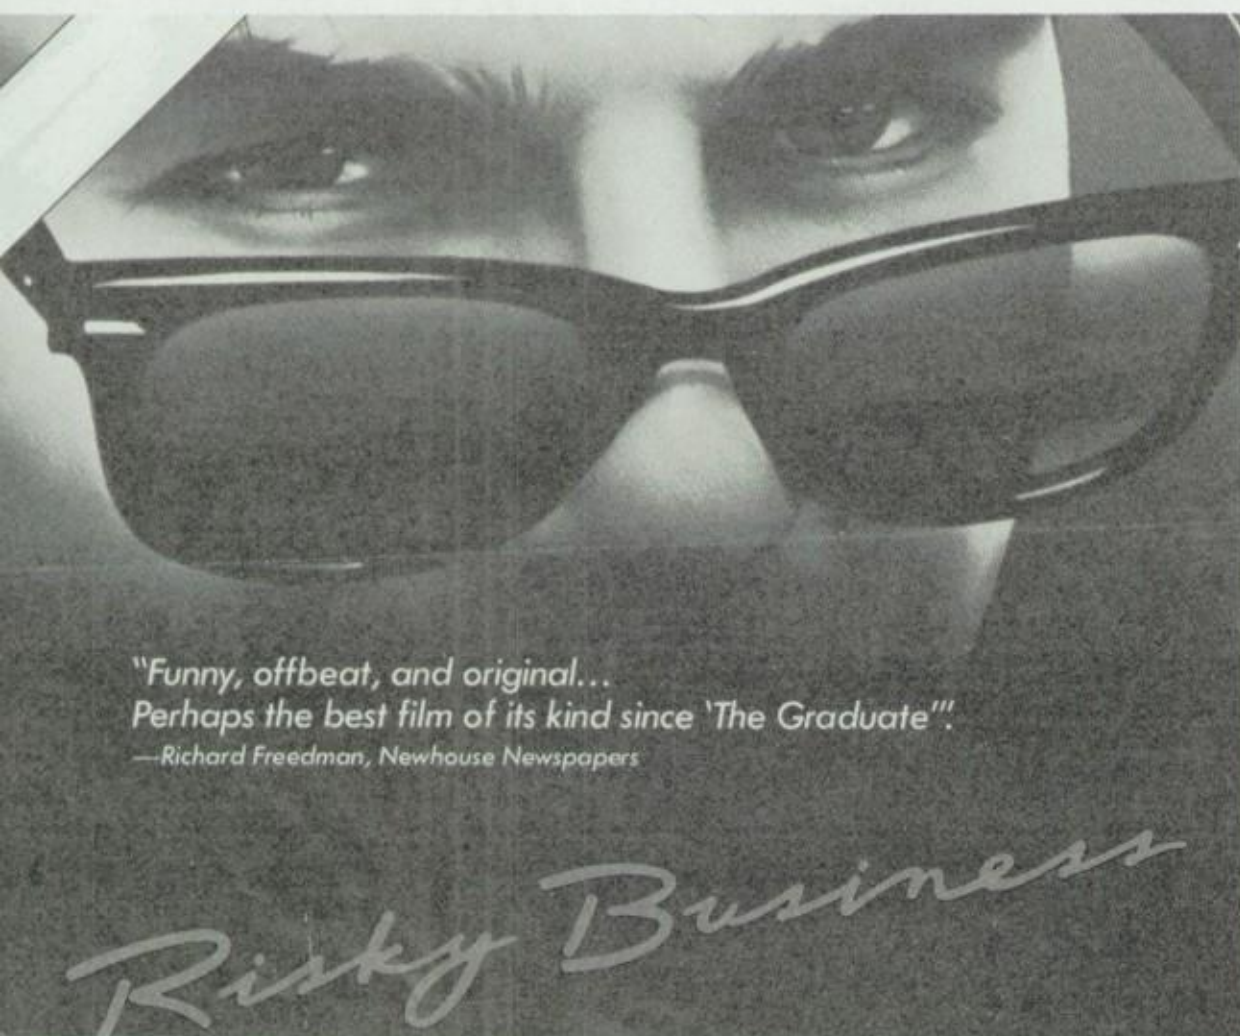

Return of the Jedi, the much awaited climax to George Lucas' "Star Wars" trilogy has a plot more shrouded than, say, the true identity of Luke Skywalker's father. Produced at a cost of 32.5 million, Return of the Jedi was by far Lucas' greatest investment. Undoubtedly, the most publicized production of the year. Return of the Jedi (the 3rd sequel to Star Wars) proved successfully not to let the viewers down by surprising them with great special effects, plenty of suspense and even some new characters. For many, Return of the Jedi was the greatest Lucas production yet. For many fans it is anxiety and anticipation until the next sequel comes out but for Lucas it is back to the beginning where it will take more hard work, long hours and an incredibly large amount of money to produce what is to be the fourth of the Star Wars sequels.

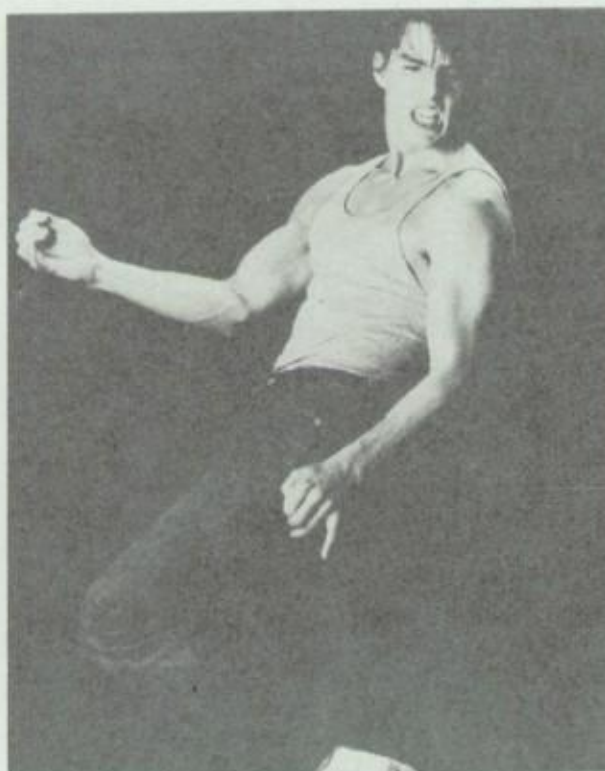

The movies of the past year had great influence on the audiences. The many new styles and fads that came from these movies showed the great influence the motion picture industry has on the media.

Bravos for Jennifer Beals whose frenetic dancing made this year's movie "Flashdance" a box office smash. When asked about her dancing, Jennifer revealed to the media that it was not actually her but instead a French actress, Marine Jahan. The trend-setting movie brought out new styles and revitalized aerobics as a form of exercise and fun.

With brilliant new actor, Tom Cruise, "Risky Business" quickly became a favorite among the teens. A funny, yet different type of movie, "Risky Business" started new trends and fads. "Risky Business" brought out an original, offbeat style of movie that proved to be very successful in drawing audiences to the theater.

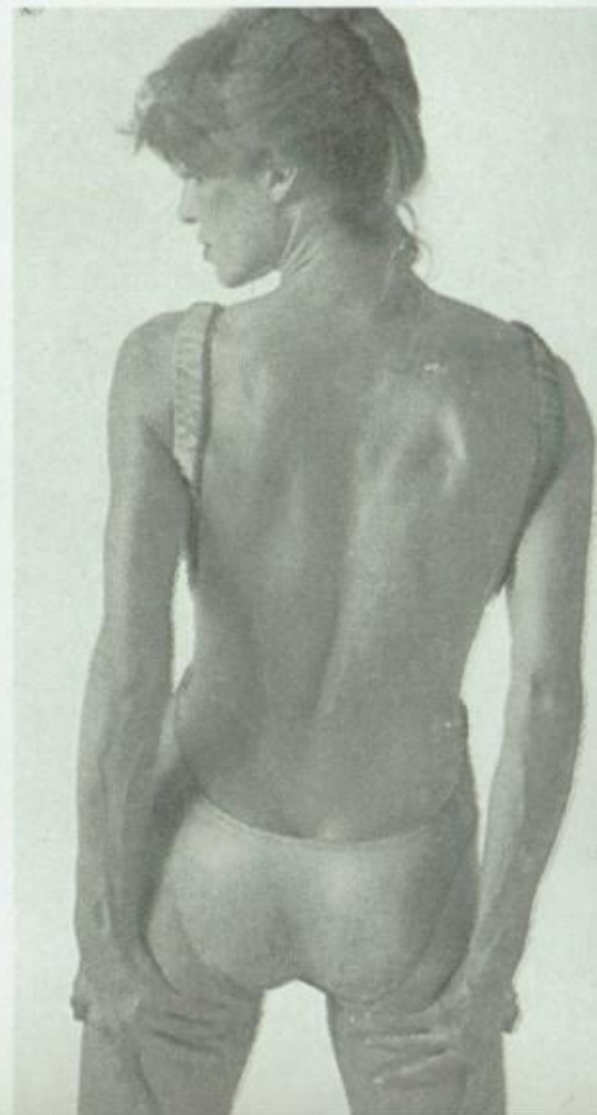

The controversial issue of the real James Bond came out this year with two James Bond films. Sean Connery played "007" in "Never Say Never Again" and Roger Moore played the role in "Octopussy". With both films being filled with action and suspense, the audiences had a tough time deciding which Bond they wanted to see and, often enough, the result was to go and see both.

Familiar Faces of '83-'84

Vanessa Williams (right) was the crown holder of the 56th Miss America Pageant. A thorny crown went to Vanessa, however, as she was the first black Miss America, and not seen simply as a glamour girl, but rather as an emblem of social change; a Miss "New" America. She was threatened, guarded, and swamped by the press with questions of abortion and discrimination, rather than the usual questions presented to beauty queens.

Vanessa, busy with appearances including singing to taped music in department stores, and demonstrating corsage making, received a whopping salary of $130,000! Vanessa's charm and stunning beauty must overwhelm those she met including Gerald Ford, Calvin Klein, and Lynbrook's Andy Lamy.

With the help of Jane Fonda (below) fitness has become on the minds of many American's. Jane brought exercise back in the home with her video tapes and workout book (the best-seller of 1982). In fact, celebrity beauty and fitness books have become a big business. Victoria Principal (below right), Linda Evans and Christie Brinkley have also published their beauty secrets in hopes of establishing a leaner America.

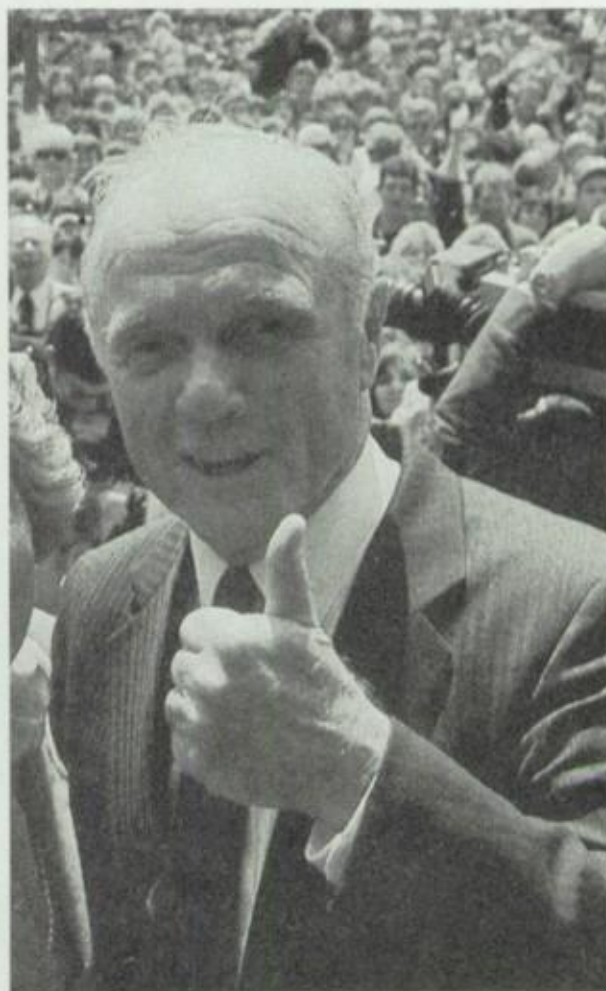

As an election year, 1984 produced some familiar faces in the Presidential race. President Reagan (above) was caught by some quick cameramen at a Photographer's Dinner. Reagan also announced his plans for re-election on the Republican ticket. Former astronaut John Glenn (above right) sought nomination by the Democrats, while John Anderson (right) tried, again, to improve the status of an Independent and break the two-party monopoly.

"Can we talk?" was a line familiar to us coming from the mouth of America's premier comedienne Joan Rivers (below). Rivers' popularity was more than controversial after her appearance in the Emmy awards and by her continual jabs at celebrity personalities. Rivers' comment, "I only go after the ones who are big enough to take it."

Cabbage Patch Kids (right) were the hottest Christmas items of 1983. Unknown to most, Cabbage Patch Kids have been around since 1977, but it wasn't until recently that they were discovered by 2.5 million adoptive parents in the latter months of 1983. The success of CBK's gave new esteem to the suffering Coleco Company, as during the Christmas months these dolls were scalped for amounts exceeding $150 (retail price- $20, $30).

A Glimpse of World Events

Aids, a disease that depletes the body's immune system became more widespread this year with reported 3,000 sufferers since 1979. A disease which quickly results in death, Aids has yet to be cured. While organized groups such as San Francisco Aids Fund (above) rallied, public opinion still reacts negatively to the topic and its sufferers.

On a lighter note, it appeared that James Watt (above left) made more than his share of social blunders this year. Watt must not have believed his banning the Beach Boys from a Fourth of July concert was enough (his preference: Wayne Newton), as he followed with a direct insult to his coalleasing commission. Within a matter of weeks following his comment "I have a black, a woman, two Jews and a cripple, and we have talent," Watt resigned. (pictured right)

Space was definitely the place this year as the world watched America launch its new beginnings.

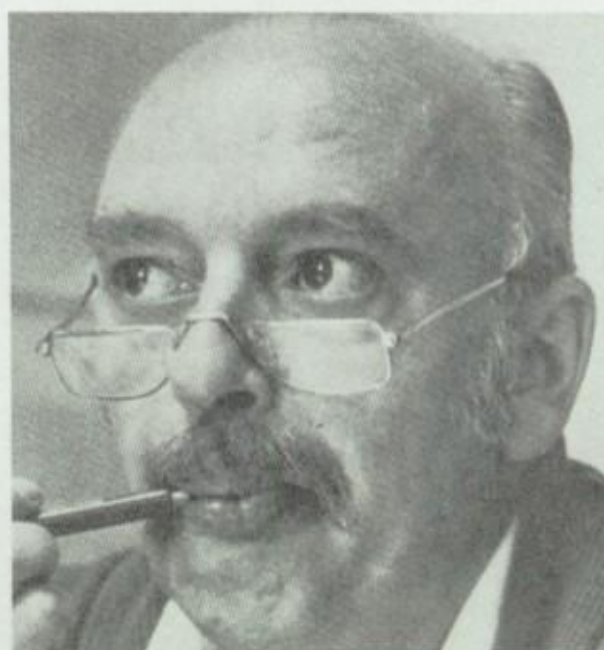

Dr. Sally Ride (below) became America's first woman in orbit; and astronauts Michael Smith, Francis Scobee, and Ronald McNair became the first humans to fly free in space, using jetpacks to propel more than 100,000 feet from the shuttle Challenger.

Konrad Kujau (right), an obscure military relics dealer in Stuttgart, W. Germany, baffled the world with his forgeries of Adolf Hitler's diaries. Although he managed to fool numerous handwriting experts, Kujau found himself in jail for fraud.

On Sept. 1, 1983, a Korean airline carrying 269 passengers and crew was shot down by a Soviet air-to-air missile. While the USSR still claims the target had been a spy plane, the U.S. and other countries believe the decision to fire on the airliner was made by a local military commander following orders to intercept all intruders. During the search for the plane, personal articles, such as clothing and shoes were found. (left)

Lebanon brought anguish for soldiers and their families. The kamakazi attack on the Marine compound in Beirut called "Bloody Sunday", became one of the most disastrous events for U.S. troops. A similar attack on French paratroops left 58 dead; for the U.S.; 218 marines, 18 sailor, and 3 soldiers. The Schultz family (right) was one of the families who mourned the loss of their Marine son, Scott.

We salute the spirit that burns in America's athletes

Tamara McKinney

Phil Mahre

It just so happens that the official snack food of the 1984 Olympic Games is M&M'S (plain and peanut) snickers, Coca Cola, and various kinds of beer. Besides the products listed above, there are many other companies that have sponsored our young athletes.

Nothing says more about the winning spirit of America than our Olympic athletes. They are dedicated amateurs, relying only on their own skill, strength and sacrifice to do a tough job. And do it right. Sarajevo, Yugoslavia is the place, 1984 is the time. Representing the U.S. for figure skating is Scott Hamilton who was the World Champion for 1981, 82, and 83. His potential for a gold medal is extremely high and he is completely self confident. Another prospect for an Olympic medal is Phil Mahre in the Men's slalom. This olympics is very special for Phil because his wife is expecting a baby that's due by the end of the Olympics. Tamara McKinney was the Woman's World Cup Ski Racing Champion. Remaining in the top five constantly, Tamara hopes for a medal in the games.

The Past and the Present

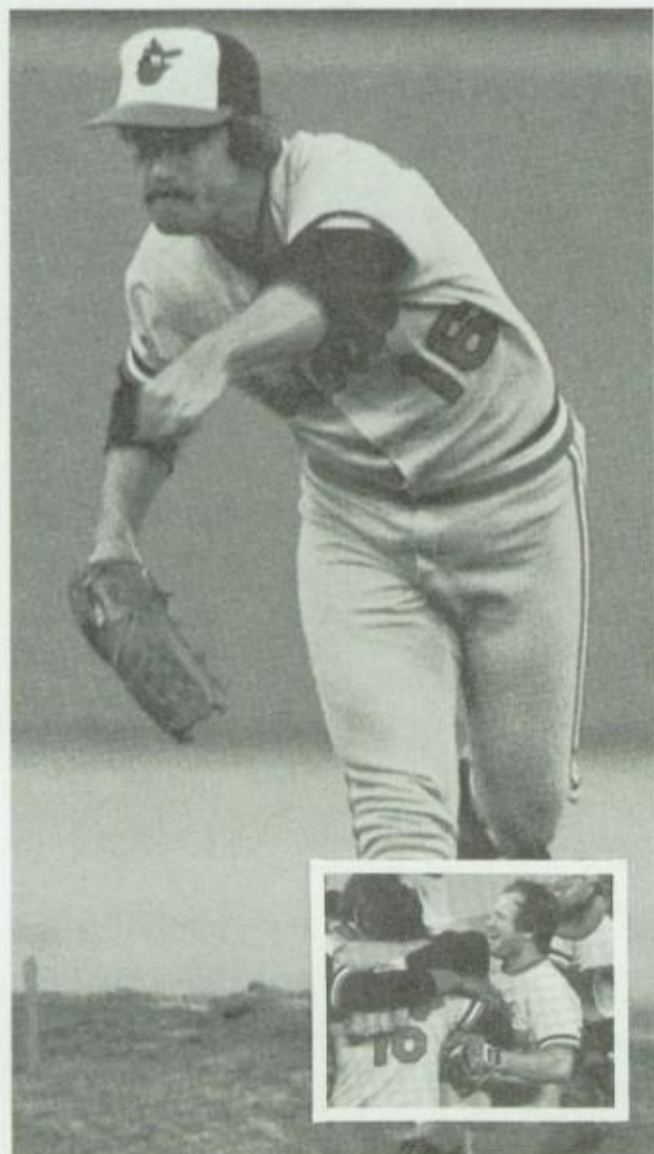

Rebecca Twigg is one of America's longest cyclists heading for L.A. this summer. She is the first American to win the title of, The Woman's World Individual Pursuit Champion, that she dramatically won last year in England. Rebecca also received the U.S. Cycling Federation's 1982 Female Rider of the Year Award. It just so happens that the '84 Olympics in L.A. represents the first-ever women's cycling event; a 70 km road race. All winter she has trained at the U.S. Olympic training center in Colorado Springs where she is a permanent athlete-in-residence. It is not definite that Rebecca Twigg will be on the Olympic team, but if she continues to do well there's no doubt she will be leading the way to the 1984 Summer Olympics.

Little do you know that many famous Olympians have passed through Lynbrook High School over the years. (some still teach there) Coach Barnett, for instance, participated in the 1968 and 1972 Olympic Games. Water polo was the sport and Barnett played the goalie position. In 1972, the team earned a bronze medal. Another Olympic participant was Coach Fishback who ran the Steeple Chase in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo. Although he did not win a medal he ran the race of his life and made many memories to keep forever. Five years ago, Roy Pallassou (left) graduated from Lynbrook with an ability that most guys don't have. He's a gymnast, and competes at San Jose State University. He's ranked in the nation and is an Olympic hopeful for this summer in L.A. Chris Cavanaugh (also left) graduated in 1980 and has been swimming ever since. He's ranked second in the nation in the 100-meter freestyle and has a very good chance in placing in the finals.

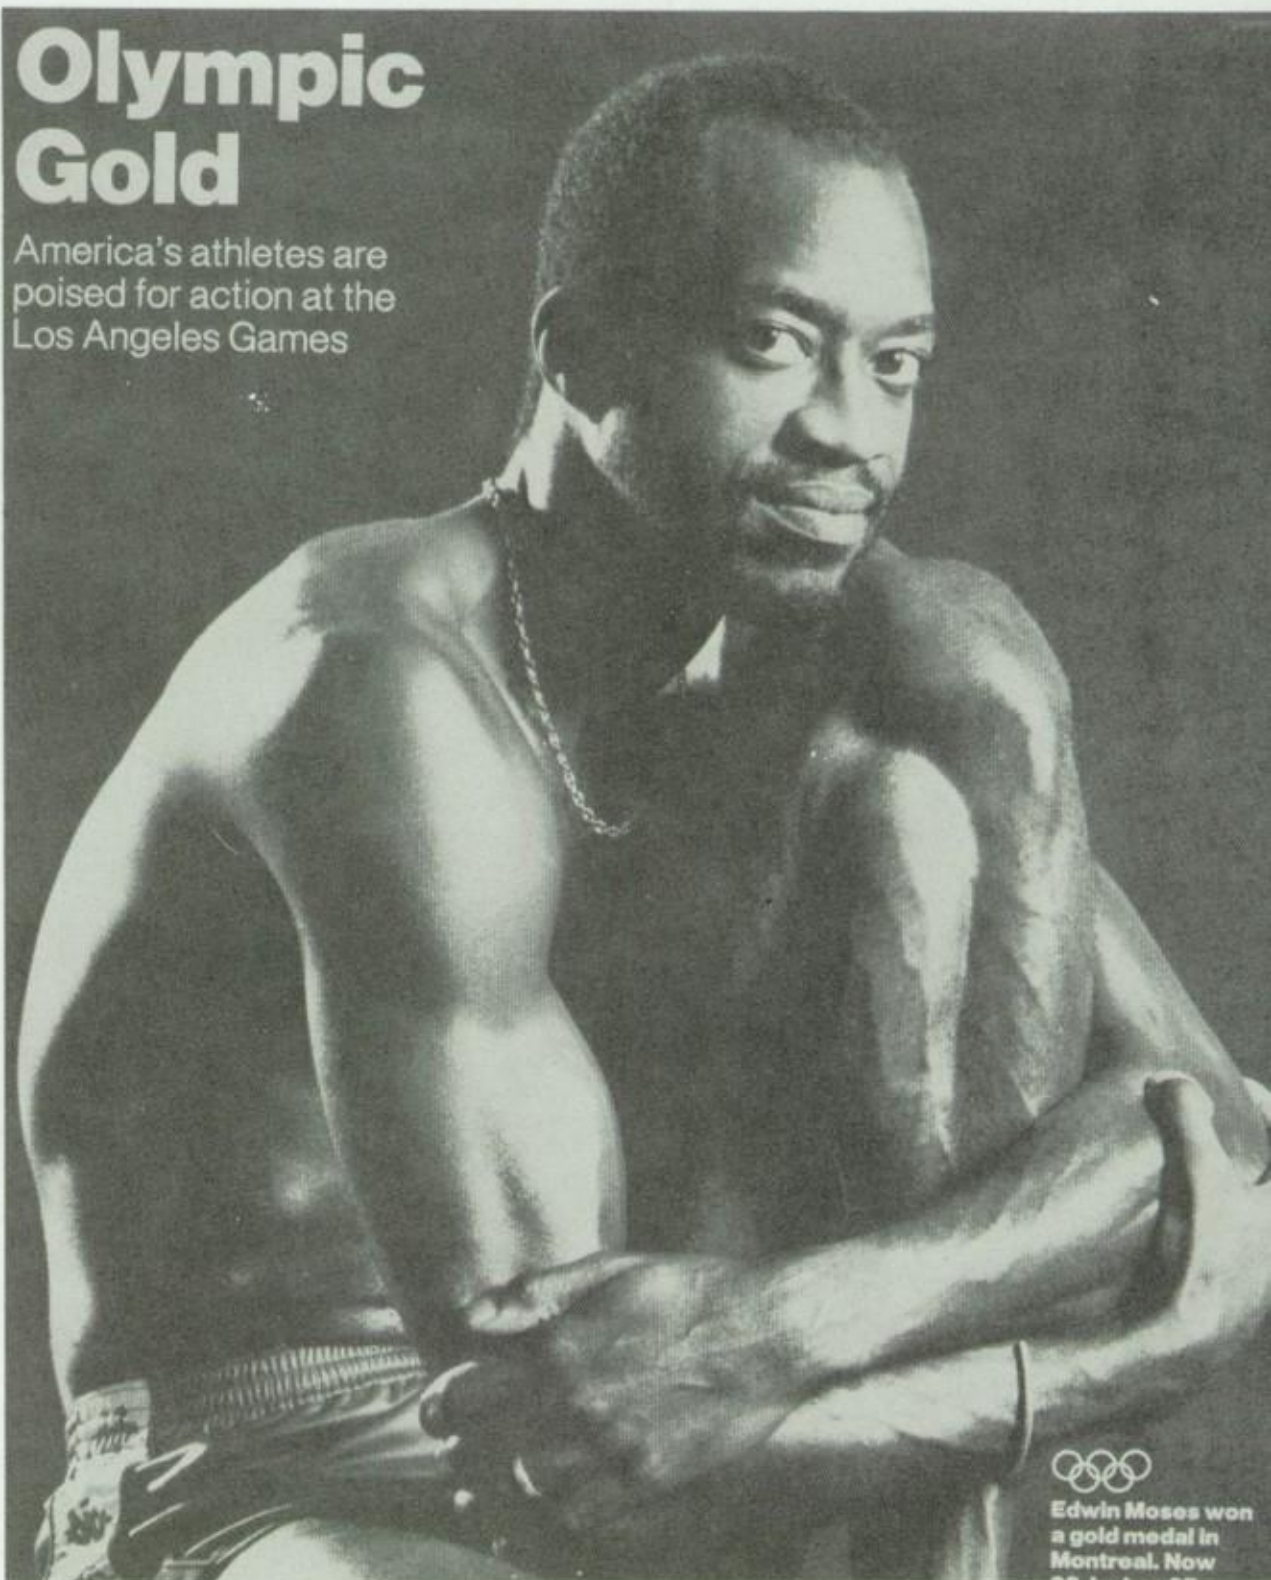

The Pursuit Of Excellence

The Baltimore Orioles simply overwhelmed Philadelphia in five games in the World Series with an exemplary team effort that featured rookie pitcher Mike Boddicker. The Orioles made a good team look bad. The game was held at Philadelphia's Stadium and it was the largest turn out reported in thirteen years history.

Olympic Gold

America's athletes are poised for action at the Los Angeles Games

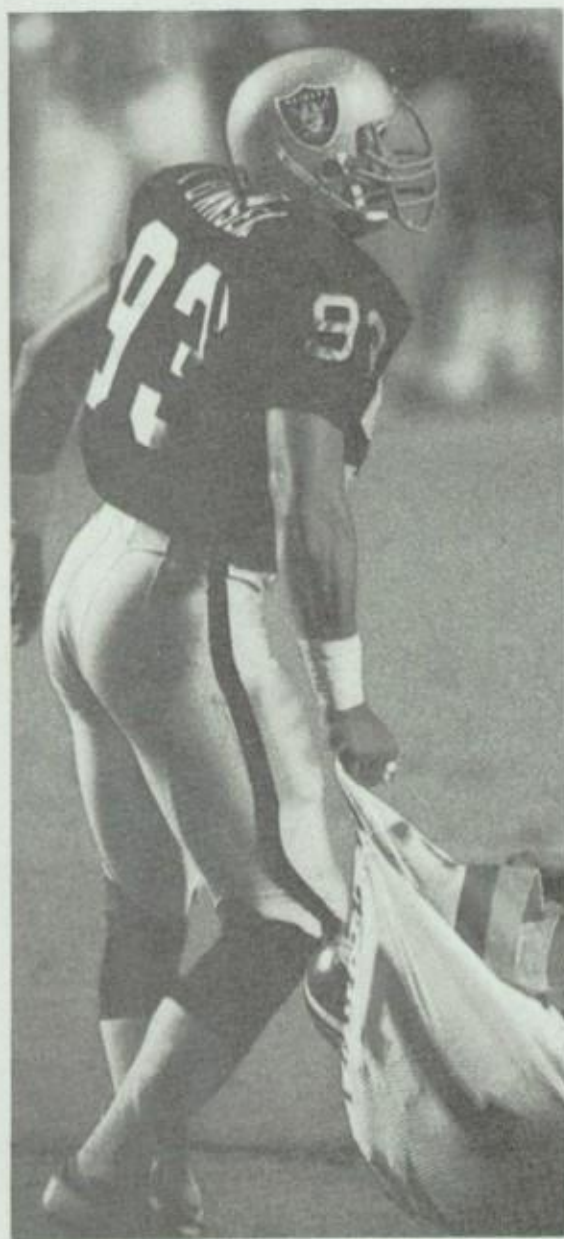

Moses and Lewis

Both Edwin Moses and Carl Lewis are two of the many outstanding athletes going to the Olympic games in L.A. this summer. Both, however, seem to be unique from all the rest. For instance, on August 31, 1983, Edwin Moses broke the 400-meter hurdles record by a tenth of a second better than the world record set three years earlier. As for Carl Lewis, he scored three gold medals in the Helsinki World Track Championship. He won gold in long jump, 100-meter dash, and joined three other teammates to accept the gold for the 4x100 relay. Overall, we have a strong team.

Connors and Navratilova declare U.S. Open Title

To begin with, the temperature at Flushing Meadows, where the U.S. Open was held, was 107 degrees. The finals for Men's singles came down to Jimmy Connors vs. Lendl. Jimmy Connors had many distractions such as: a hurt foot, and other unmentionables that should have slowed him down but didn't. As for Ladies singles, Martina Navratilova made a point to win this time. She struggled hard to achieve her first ever U.S. Open title. It has been long awaited and deserved.

The Superbowl Slam!!

The Los Angeles Raiders' 38-9 victory over the Washington Redskins was a memory; the score made a new record in Superbowl history. The Raiders new motto, (that was posted all over town) said, Committed to Excellence, on Sunday that's exactly what they did. Although Riggins put up a fight, Marcus Allen seemed to find that key hole that took him down the whole length of the field. The superb performance of the Raiders truly made Superbowl XVIII A memorable one.

A NEW BEGINNING

After a four year slump in the record business, charts were suddenly popping with mega-sellers. Veterans were coming out with new material and many newcomers were starting out on the road to success. Elton John, Paul McCartney, (formerly of Beatle fame) and Billy Joel were among these veterans with new albums. Michel Jackson reached "Super Stardom" with his "Thriller" album. During the summer of 1983, the eternally energetic and youthful Mick Jagger of the Stones turned 40. One of the most popular albums of the year was "Synchronicity" by the Police. The single, "Every Breath You Take" was number one for weeks on end. As for the newcomers, Culture Club, Duran Duran, The Fixx, and Oingo Boingo made the biggest impact. Overall, it was a year full of extraordinary talent which boosted the music world to a new dimension.

A Musical Year

THE TIP OF THE ICEBERG

A legend was made during the 1983-84 school year—the legend of Michael Jackson. People were able to see him become one of the most powerful, successful performers of all times. He began twenty years ago singing with his four brothers and forming the ever-famous Jackson Five. He had been strutting toward the top of the pop music world for these two decades. This year, Michael arrived. Along the way, many records were broken. His album, “Thriller”, sold over 20 million LPs and had 6 Top Ten singles (the most ever off one album.). At the American Music Awards, he won 7 awards— one of which was the Special Merit Award. Among his honors, he was nominated for twelve (Another record!) Grammy Awards. Michael’s true artistic talent was brought out by

MTV. Through his videos, people were able to feel the energy produced. His first two videos, “Beat It” and “Billy Jean”, were instant successes. The time and effort poured into these videos were clearly evident. His third video, “Thriller”, took the form one step further— a mini-movie that was 14 minutes in length and cost $1.1 million to produce. “Thriller” premiered in the movie theater in time to qualify for a 1984 short subject Oscar. Another part of Michael is his appeal. He has a passionate intensity that is seen in everything he does. It is easy to see that we have only seen the tip of his iceberg when it comes to Michael Jackson. There is more to come.

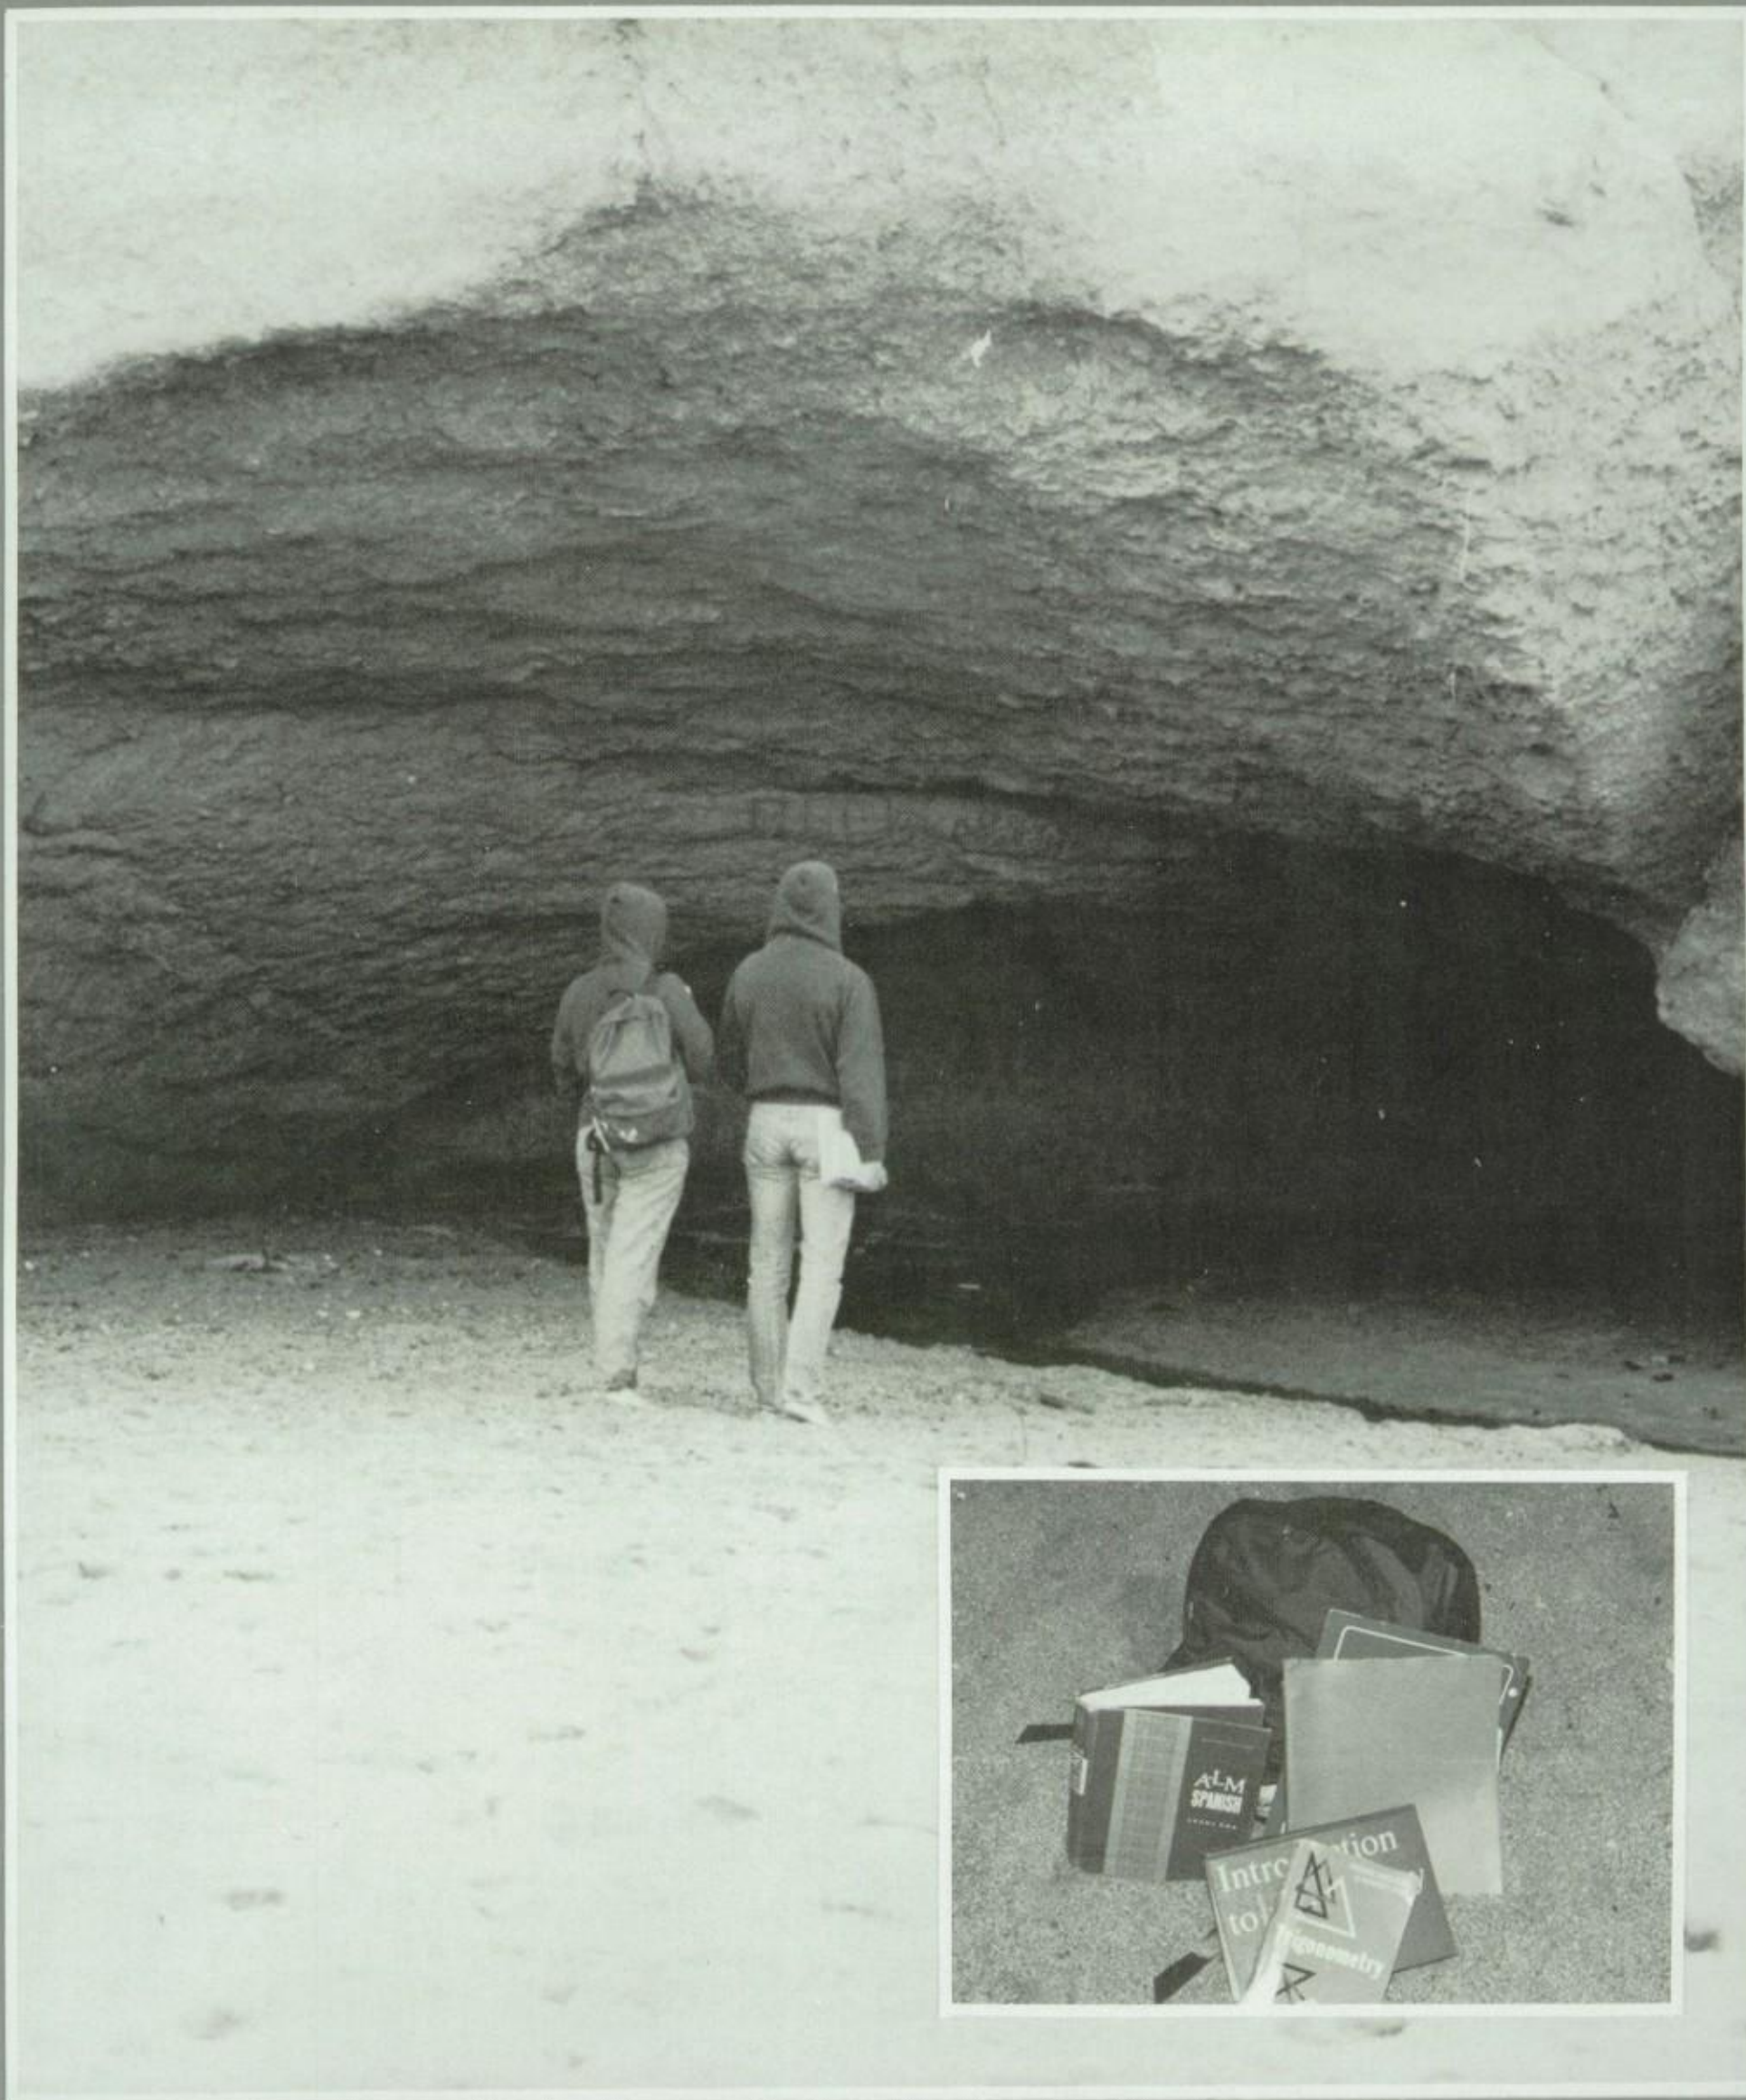

A CULTURAL BAND

A new group (and image) emerged during the 1983-84 school year . . . Culture Club, led by Boy George (Doud). With the new emphasis on videos (and therefore, appearance), it is no wonder that British Boy George made such an impression with his plucked eyebrows, layers of make-up, strawberry lipstick, and dyed hair. By far, Culture Club had become the most popular group in England with growing popularity in the United States. Their reggae single “Do You Really Want to Hurt Me?” sold 6.5 million copies world wide. A second single, “Time”, went Top Five and a third and fourth, “I’ll Tumble 4” and “Karma Chameleon” vaulted up the charts. Is “Boy” the look of the future? Maybe not, but he, his pretentious voice, and his Cultural band became the sound of 1984.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE MUSIC

In 1981, a strange occurrence took place in the music world . . . MTV (Music Television). The concept took a while to catch on, but by 1984, Video Rock shook the record business. Videos became almost imperative for most performers to have. Those three-to-five minute “movies” transformed the song into a sight unexpected. As the years moved on, the videos became more expensive, more elaborate, and more entertaining. All in all, 1983-84 was the start of a Video Revolution.

Underclass Officers

Wow, guys, we did it! Never before have the seniors been defeated in Homecoming Week! It took something special like the class of '85 to come up with our theme, Dreams: Fantasies or Nightmares, and somehow make it all come true. A haunted house, a spooky cemetery, a castle, a magical wishing well, a sparkling pond (with real fish), and a flower garden. Though we were exhausted from working endless hours on our theme and we wanted to lay down and have our own dreams, we knew it was well worth it, for we had created a masterpiece. Yes, this is the year we all came together and proved our excellence: Homecoming Week. Go get 'em, '85- the odds are with us (Hee Hee)!!

Now that they've been initiated through their year, the sophomores have more than a right to really feel like a part of Lynbrook.

But being a sophomore has its drawbacks, like not being able to sing their way out of Galliard's detention any more. However, they didn't let that stop them. The sophomores showed their true spirit with their homecoming theme "Day Out West", and Kelly Garrett at princess.

Freshman Class: Lynn Stepovich, Alex Lowe, Shanon McGee, Tony Pastore (not Pictured)

Starting a new school is often a scary experience. The new Frosh seemed to adapt quite well to their new environment. Organizations began under Lynn, and plans for Homecoming Week were made. There was no disappointment when the rally court was transformed into a Prehistoric atmosphere. Cave Day was a hit! To many of us, 1987 seems light years away. To the Freshmen, 1987 gives them only four years to collect great memories, friendships, and happiness.

A Passage Together . . .

. . . Organizations.

V-I-K-E P-R-I-D-E, we've got Vike Pride ... And they certainly do. LHS spirit leaders are definately a rare breed; combining dedication, coordination, and a loud voice to cheer our teams to victory.

It all starts with camp, who could forget camp? Leigh's cooler, Alison's (burnt) banana nut bread, a variety of JUNK food, cutting Peter's concert, laughs, smiles ... memories.

But camp was only a foreshadow of the year to come, a year to cheer about. Football games, basketball games, minor sports, Pancake Breakfast (What, no Police concert?), Valkyries events (congrats Valks), and don't forget, Pep-club meetings, commitees, dawn patrol, game attendnace, and, for some, try-outs.

Something to Cheer About

Special Events of '83-'84

This year was one of surprises and personal victories. A new squad J/V Letter Girls were introduced and boosted underclass spirit! Leigh made USA!! Way to go Leigh, we're so proud of you! And there were three spirit-leader Homecoming Princesses this year (Mimie, Karyn, and Kelley, congrats!). We owe a special thanks to Mrs. Dragon- for all the time and care you have given us, thank you very much!!

SQUADS:

Changes are Taking Place

What's this?! Our Valkyries are changing! No more tomato red lipstick, now it's glow-in-the-dark make-up in psychedelic pink! In competition the Valkyries went from coneheads to flattops for the second year. Is their style changing too? You bet! They've been watching a lot of Michael's moves! These changes are working, though. The drill team placed first in state, regaining their title after two disappointing years. The flag team also changed their style this year (watching Michael again!) to 5-0-1's and ripped t-shirts. Carrying clubs and chains for their gang war in their "Beat It" routine, they proved their superiority once again. After a few haphazardous tries with foil screens for transformation from mean and nasty to graceful, the Valkyrie flags mastered the quick and surprising change of costume. It's S.G.! While flags were dancing to Michael, drill team carried on the Broadway tradition of football season by dancing to music from "Cats". Well girls, maybe a new tradition has been started, the routine was actually done a whole week before competition. You can do it small team, don't say you can't. Don't forget your attitude. OLé!

Ah, The Valhalla Staff--those chosen to dedicate themselves to illustrate a common passage to the students of Lynbrook. And all the while, we have ventured through our own passage. Often obstacles had been thrown in our way to make the journey a more trying one. Yet, how valuable the victories and lessons along the way ("somehow we always make it in the end.") We began with some rough spots and when all appeared hopeless. Rode pulled us together, making us realize there is nothing that plain communication can't resolve. That marked the start of a staff that could reap nothing but benefits as a result of working out relations and working together to achieve a common goal.

Breaking the tradition of a staff usually divided, we became one of Lynbrook's finest. It's when we pulled ourselves together that we found the passage more enjoyable, where friends and co-workers can be one in the same. At times it seems we were masicists (it's a thankless job), till we leaned on each other and got the reassurance we needed.

Mom and Dad (now it's official!) were always there for "the Kids" (that's us!), yet they gave us a chance to create a book all our own. Congradulations again from all of us. We were happy to throw your only pre-wedding party! (By the way, how were the paints??!!)

Between cookies, cakes (mocha), oreo's, Mystic mints, chips, Captain Crunch, pizza, Tab, M&M's, popcorn, Rice Krispy treats, See's suckers, Mom Paterson's holiday candy-you name it, we got it! ("You guys will eat anything won't you?") It's a wonder we got anything done besides putting on poundage. That is, everyone but Scoooooooooot, who always had to "weigh in" the days of our parties.

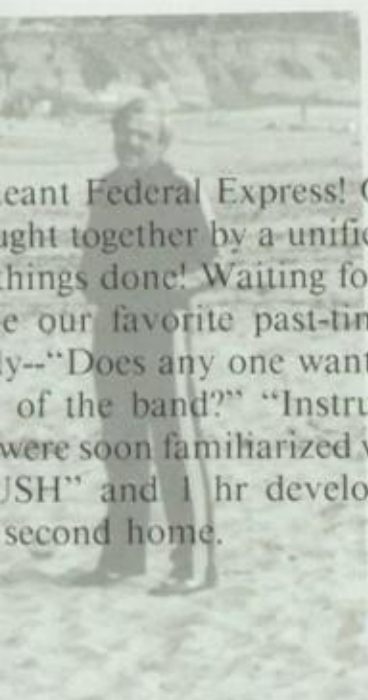

We found we worked the best in the middle of the night (though 2:00 or 3:00 in the morning was good too!). The infamous Quad-Pack night where work was fun, but tedious! Our inspiration came from the various tunes we listened to (K.L.@45; Dan, the author of our book; tribute to Karen Carpenter; Michael, in his younger days (he still sounds the same!), and whatever else we could scrape-up in the form of a record! Uh, Julie change the record.

Despite the forces working against us; trapped white, near misses, missing crop-pers, broken typewriters, crusty Boo Boo Goo, and other minor catastrophies, we managed to meet our deadlines, even if,

The work and anguish we felt are placed in the back of our minds now as we hold our version of the '83/'84 school year. As we expose our book to the rest of LHS, our heart pounds and questions like, "Will they like the cover?" and "Will they understand the theme?", run through our minds. But we must remember that what we have created is a book of memories, for the entire student body as well as ourselves. These memories, in the form of pictures, copy, and quotes will be a constant reminder of our year-Valhalla '83/'84. You guys, this is your book! Congrats! Very sincerely, Juli, Lilo and Elaine
P.S. Mandy you got the ball!!

This may very well have been the best year Lynbrook's music department has ever had. This is partly due to our great choirs, headed by Mrs. Lois Vidt. The ever-popular Jazz Express has been giving concerts all year long. Concert Choir and Girls' Choir performed in December's Christmas Pageant. Girls' Choir starred in the Pops and Spring Concerts. Fundraisers have been going all year long for Jazz and Concert Choir's Mexico Tour in April. Members of Beginning Choir are already looking forward to a successful future in one of Lynbrook's great choruses.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

This year Lynbrook High was gifted enough to have four students that were out of this world! . . . the country that is. We had foreign exchange students from around the world. This year we had Antti-Pekka Nikula from Finland, Charlotte Berwitz from France, Caroline de Schipper from Belgium and Susanna Slotte from Finland. When they first arrived in California, they all had different pictures of what it was going to be like. They tried new things, and went to different places that were now available to them. They learned about the American Way, (usually the bizarre way) and enjoyed California to its fullest. After all, isn't everyone envious of the west coast?!

Board Candidates

The Epic continued its proud tradition of grouping together twenty-three misfits and troublemakers in one great "Get the facts but have fun getting 'em" effort. The gang had ten grueling issues to produce and had no spare time for diversions like dressing and hanging bananas, turning posters upside down, or reversing gravity. Sunbathing at Scully Park (Cub Edition!), ribboning the typesetting room, rednezzous in the prep room (Right, Sweetie?) and almost getting caught (Right, Mom G.), and giving our best Christie Brinkley impressions (Kathy does a great uptown girl) were also popular. Of course, the staff had absolutely no time for such inane activities such as nicknaming the staffers. (Right Nose, Ricky, Sho man-alias Snowman, and Smiley Muraily?) Despite the distractions, the Epic miraculously came out on time, and the staff managed to get the fact and have the time of their lives.

Musical Marching Chorus Line

Broadway here we come! The band's halftime field performance was a real show stopper as they played the songs from the Broadway musical, "Cats". The band pulled together eventually for several spectacular shows, even with the hectic practice and last-minute drill changes. They proved their talent in marching and music by placing first in parade and third in the half-time competitions at the T.O.B.. Solo majorette, Lynn Beachelor, also had an outstanding year, adding to the band's collection of trophies by placing third in the Pacific Grove parade competition. The band's I.D. unit (let's hear it for the tall Valks!) also placed fourth in the parade competition. Andy Lamy not only did a good job of leading the marching band at Lynbrook but was also chosen to be in the McDonald's Band in New York at the Macy's Holiday Parade. Critics get your pens ready, the band's still marching toward more raving reviews.

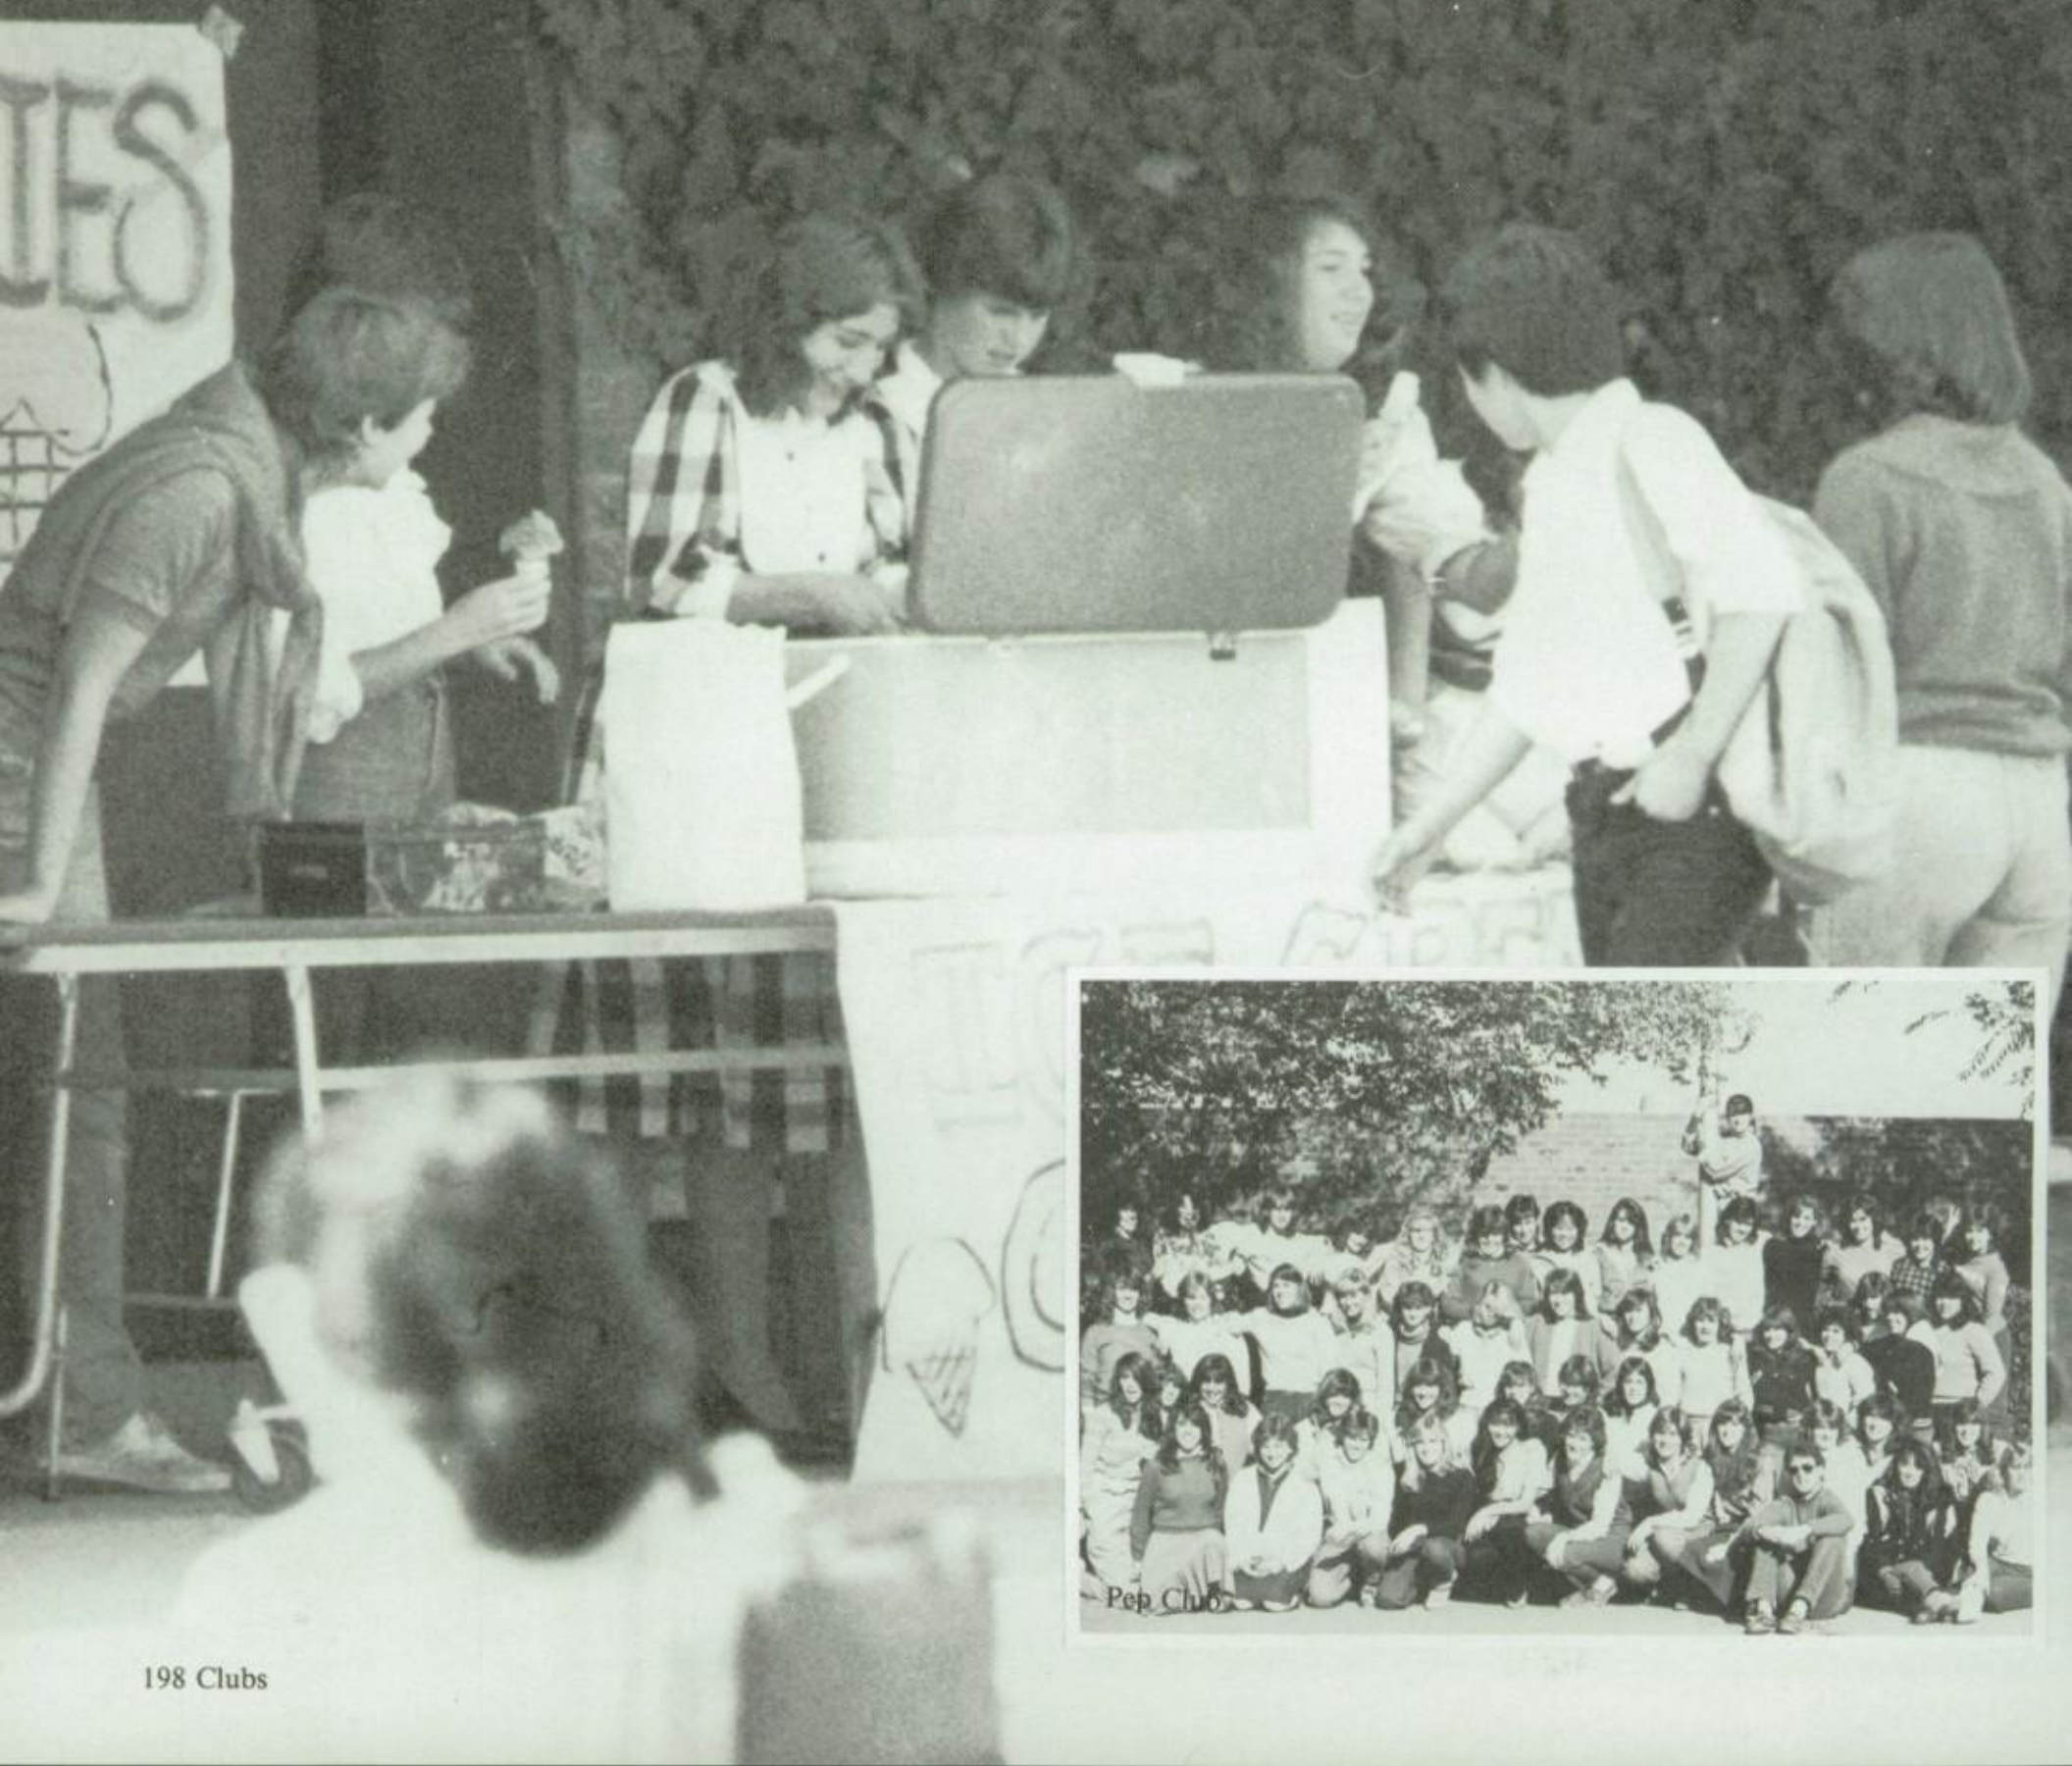

This year's project for the club section was to get creative pictures instead of group mug shots. The club with the most creative picture was to win \$25 dollars toward their club. After careful consideration, Model Railroad Club was chosen, and they appear on this page. Our thanks to go to everyone who participated, and all the clubs who put a lot of time and effort into their picture. This year's clubs started off with NHS and the infamous ping-pong marathon (who sat on the table?), SHS's drive for Bob Fleming's heart transplant, and the formation of the new Music Club. Math Club followed with their formula for success ($A = \text{success}$; $A = X + Y + Z$ where $X = \text{work}$, $Y = \text{play}$, and $Z = \text{keep your mouth shut!}$), and Model Railroad Club finished with CREATIVE picture (thanks, guys!) All in all, the clubs and their activities at Lynbrook this year were a great success.

National Honor Society

This year's clubs at LHS proved to be very active. Octagon Club took the foreign foreign exchange students on a tour of San Francisco, Speech Club took part in a number of debates, and the Pep Club kept up Lynbrook spirit at all the athletic events. Unfortunately, Pep Club's picture was missing a few key members (sorry Mimie and Christie!), to whom we apologize. French Club recruited a number of junior Napoleons for its members, while Historical Simulations Club contained a mixture of people from the past and present (the Lone Ranger and a Russian in the same picture?). The Asian American Club finished the group with their traditional clothes and decorations.

The year started out with something new and unique for clubs, Club Rush Day. (Funny, it resembled Club Day). Clubs were given a chance to recruit new members. Many forms of bribery were used (Selling food, for example. MMM!) Some of the favorites were pretzels from Germany, Natchos from Spain (Alias the German Club and the Spanish Club), and baked goods from Key Club. All of these added to the treasury ($$$) of each club. The Bike Club gave a free demo of their biking abilities which contributed to the fun. Other clubs featured on this page are F.B.L.A. and the Quill and Scroll Honor Society. (alias Epic Staff). F.B.L.A. (short for Future Business Leaders of America) is the club of succeeders. Quill and Scroll is responsible for our monthly newspaper, the National Enquirer (Oops, Epic).

Bob Grover, one of the Special Education teachers: truly stands out in his profession. When teaching, he gives an extra effort to make them feel equal. He not only spends time in the classroom but also time outside. This allows the freedom and the chance to explore other areas outside the classroom. In general, Mr. Grover is a kind and good teacher who cares very much for his kids.

Wow! November 18, 1983 wedding bells rang out in honor of two very special people, Jim Rodehorst and Kristi Reed. They were joined together in holy matrimony, in Iowa by Rode's father. Although the celebration only consisted of the bride, groom, and Rev. and Mrs. Rodehorst, it was very special and memorable for the two. Congratulations Mom and Dad.

Ruth, Chris, and Kel, God blessed me with three of the best friends anyone could have-for that I will be forever grateful. You all hold a special place in my heart. Love always, Lilo '84

"I've always said that I believe anything can happen, but lately I'd been wondering if that's really true . . ."

As the sun sets on Lynbrook High School, reflections illuminate the passage of another year. The closing of the year signifies a new, untrailed beginning for those moving on and seeking a new way of life. Yet an inevitable change of status will arise for those remaining in the shelter of Lynbrook.

Passing through time, we can only perceive shaded images of our future; but, as our future becomes reality, images become more defined as we discover light at the end of the tunnel which reveals. . .

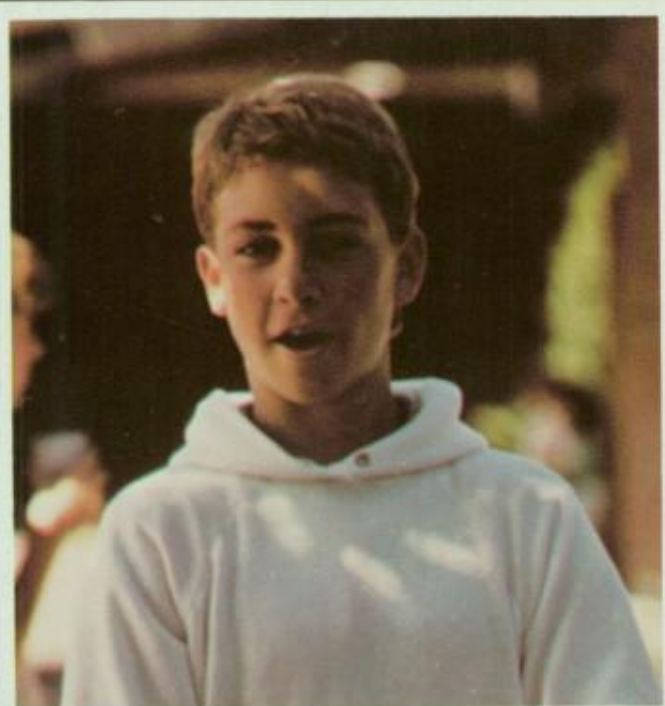

*"... And I gotta let you know
I believe again, miracles can happen
in the end."*

-Kenny Loggins

"... Love when you can cry when you have to be who you must. That's a part of the plan."

-Dan Fogelberg

meaning. "There's a light in the depths of your darkness. There's a calm at the eye of every storm. There's a light in the depths of your darkness-Let it shine."

-Dan Fogelberg

Continual enlightenment exposes truth in our lives. This truth is the element which Aides us in our understanding of ourselves and others. Many times, we are bothered with seemingly unchangeable problems, but as we grow we try to face our troubles and learn from our mistakes. Lynbrook hosts many aspects of learning for us, the students. Not only are our minds enriched through instructors and...

"Our lives are so precious and time can always pass us by, but you never know why."

-Eddie Money

"I hurry through my life, never stopping to see, how beautiful it was meant to be."

-Styx

"My memories are happy and my memories are sad, but I love to take my pictures out and take the things I had."

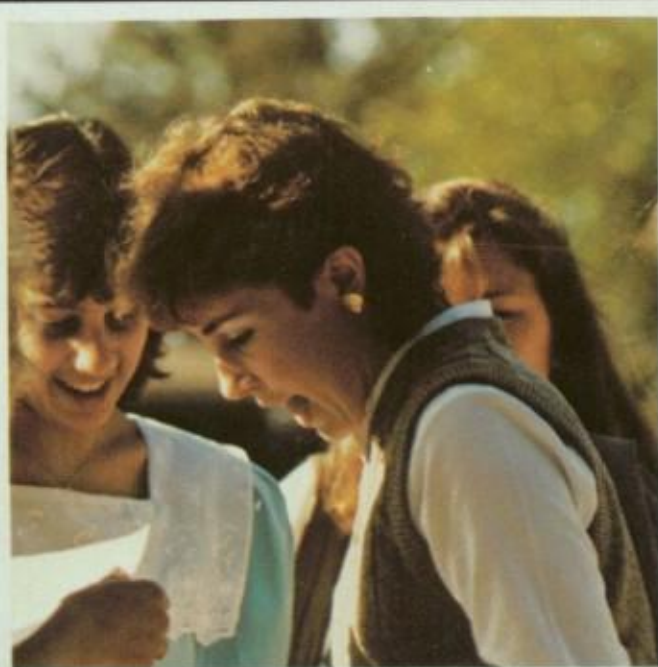

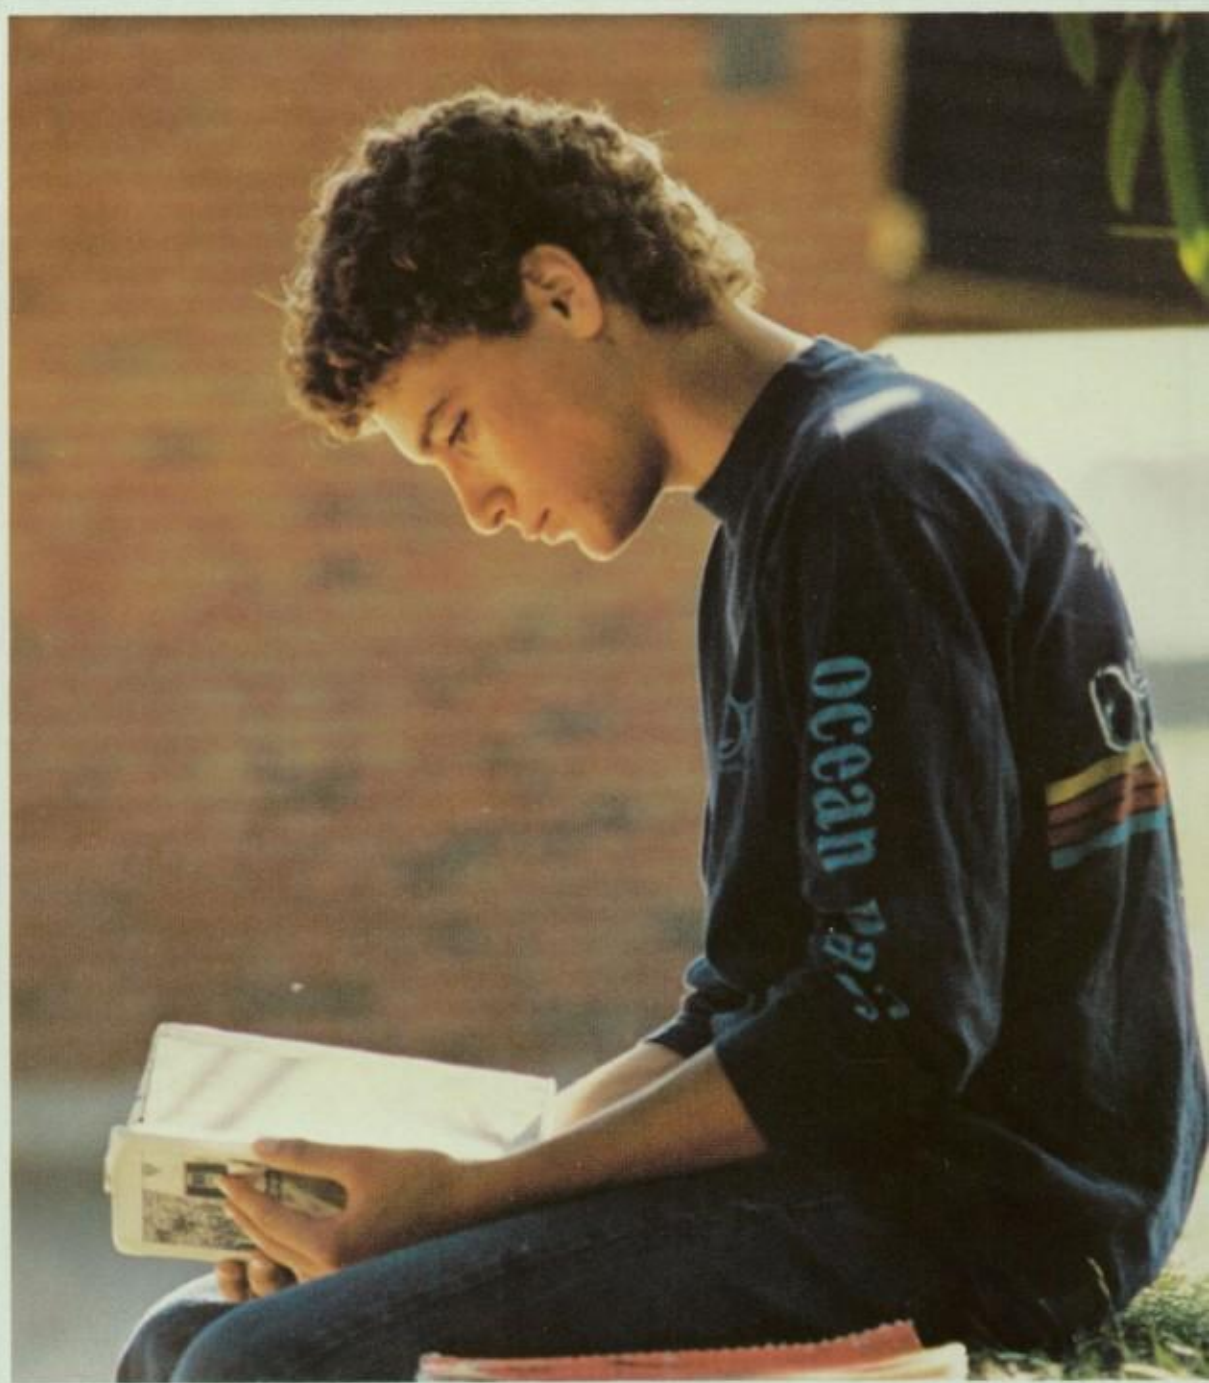

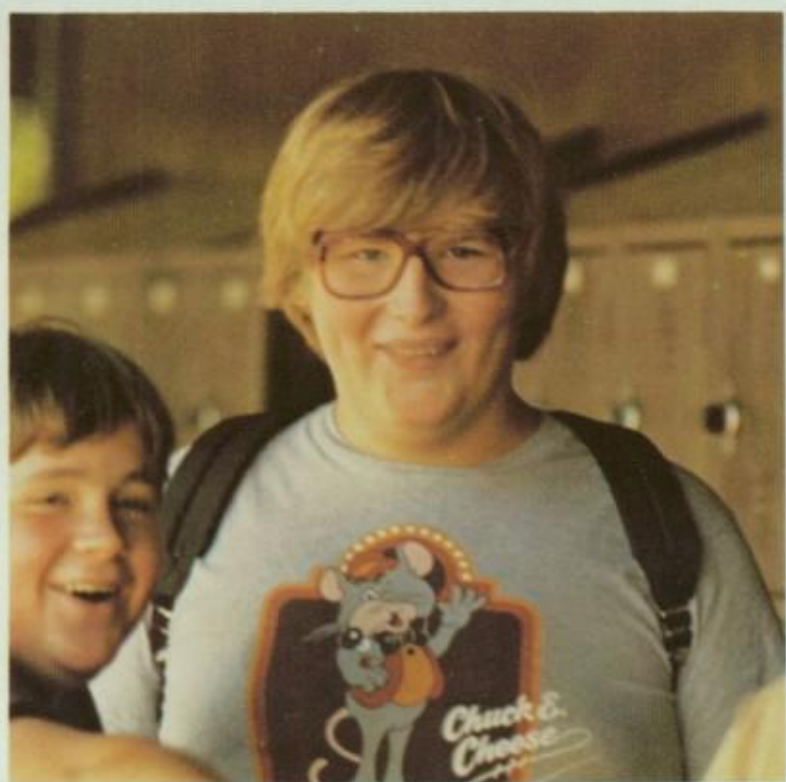

-Eddie Money

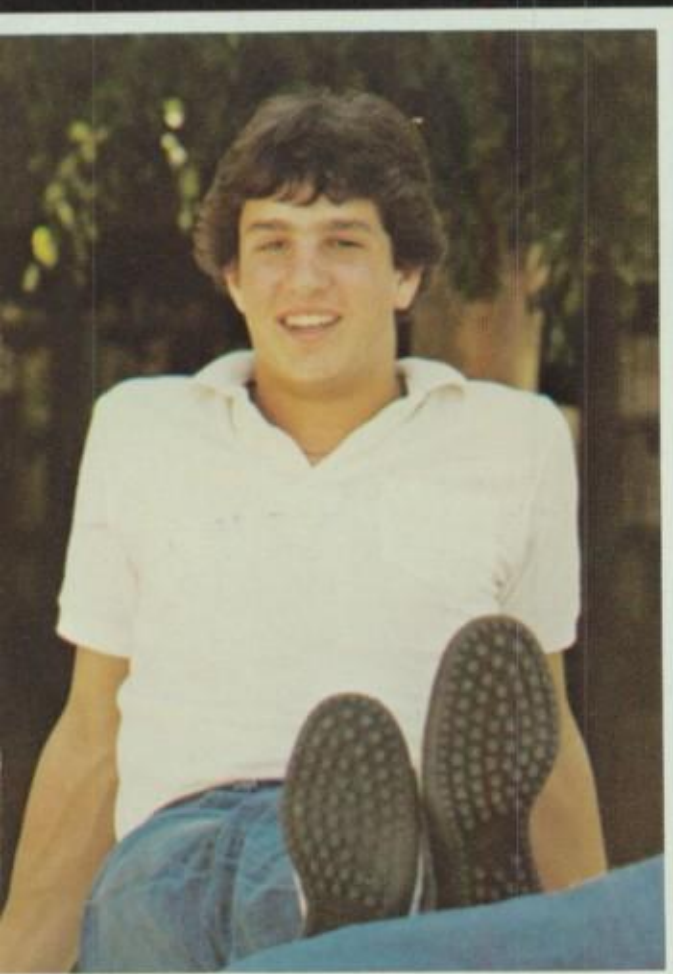

textbooks, but we learn independence. This can be quite an adjustment as we are exposed to the many obstacles in our road to success. "Still we all look for the truth in our lives, searching from different sides. It's so hard living in a desperate world, but we all do the best that we can. Some see the road as clear, some say the end is here. They say it's a hopeless fight, but I gotta try."-Kenny Loggins. In our passage through Lynbrook, we realize the true meaning (perhaps for the first time) of friendship. In our younger years, our best friend was one who gave us their Twinkies. . .

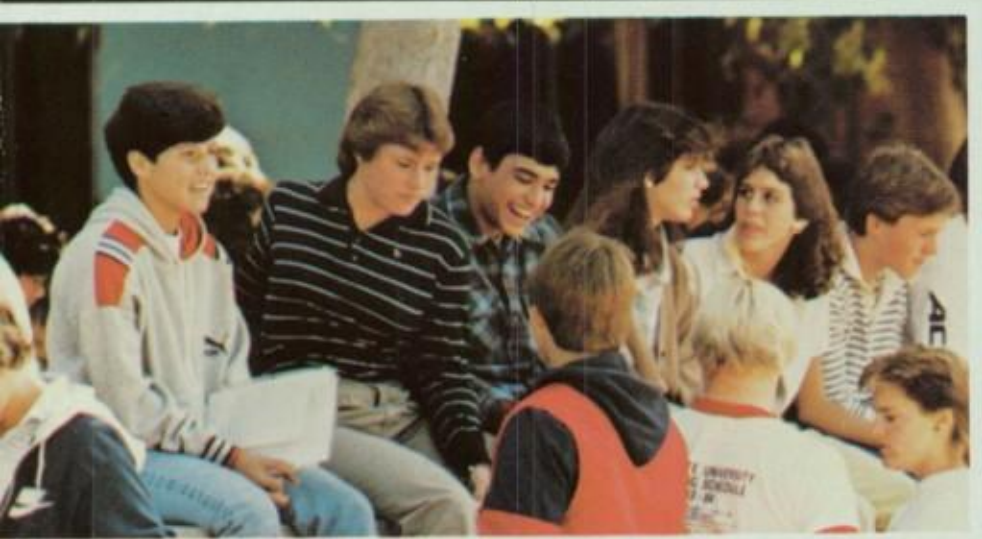

"See the kids just getting out of school. They can't wait to hang out and be cool. Hang around 'til quarter after twelve, that's when they fall in line. Kids got the beat. They got the beat."

-The Go Go's

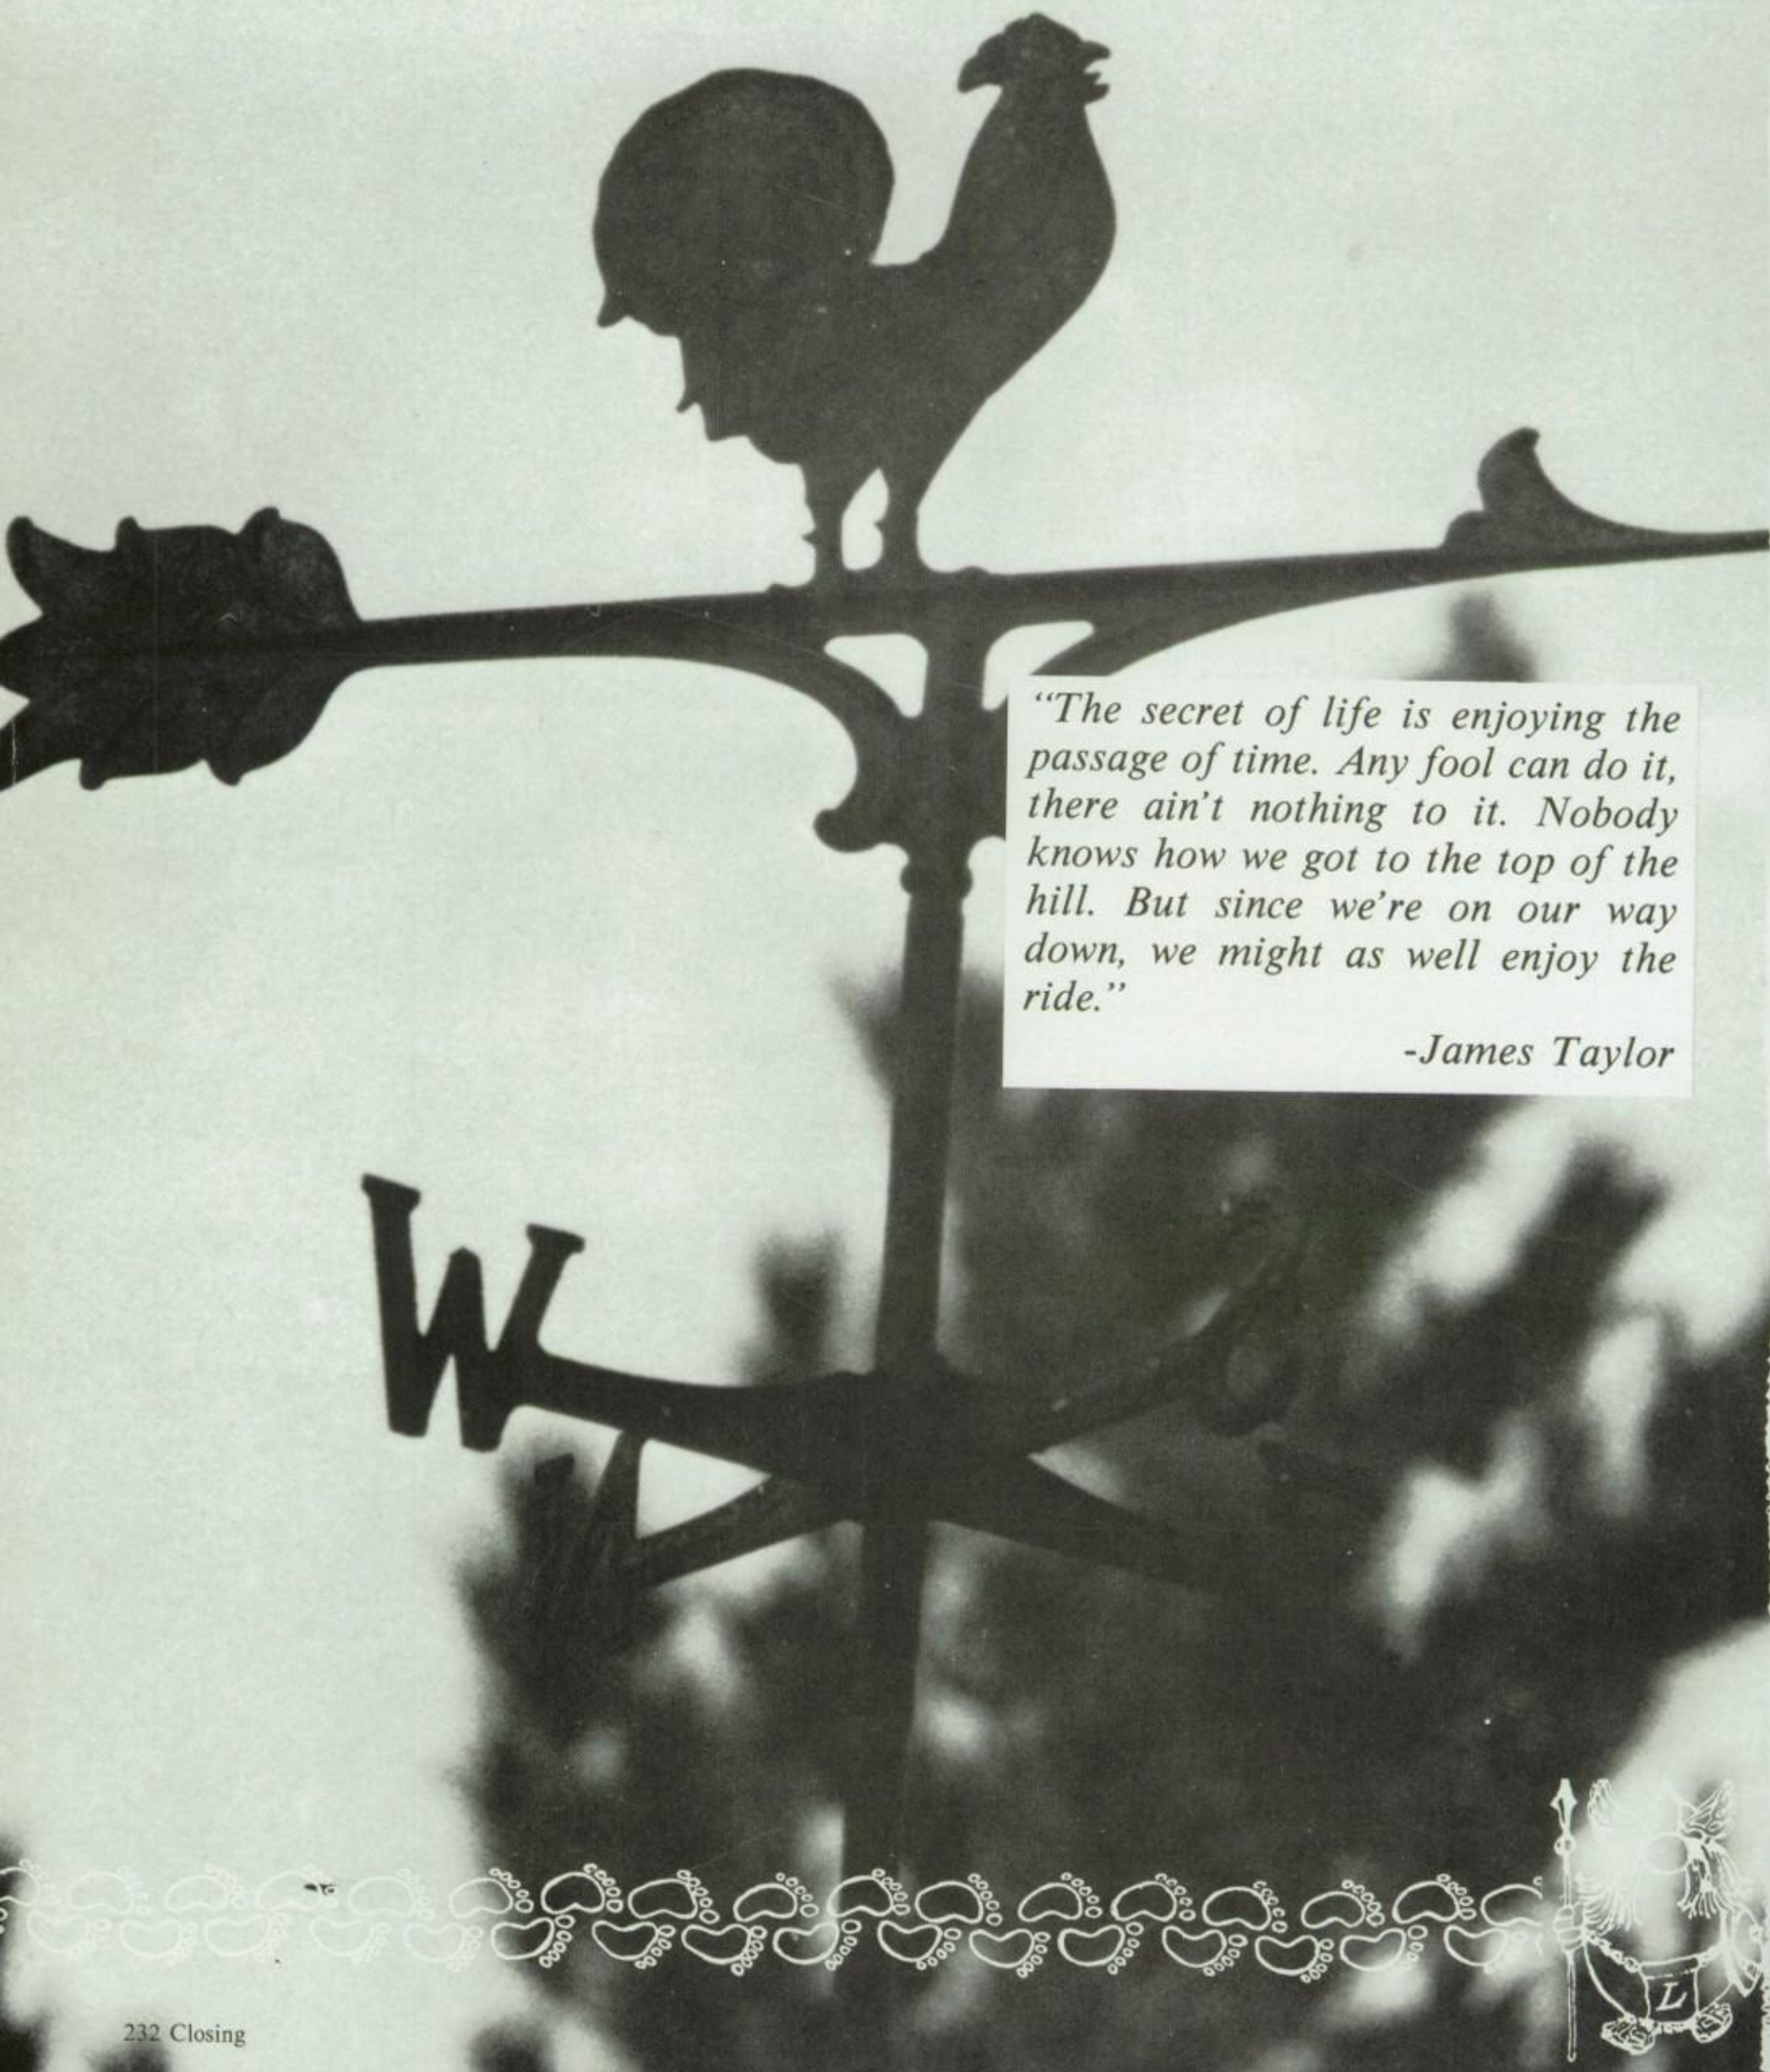

at lunch. Friendships today mean so much more than that. True friends share the bad and the good. Even though arguments may arise, they only help to strengthen the bond once they are ironed out. The passage through Lynbrook is just that, a passage. For all of us (Even the Class of '87), there will come a June 16. As we start a new life, we leave the old behind; however, the memories of the friends we have established here at Lynbrook will last a lifetime. Memories. No matter what the case, we all have memories of the 1983-84 school year. Who could forget the all-nighters trying to cram for the Chem test, or scrounging around the house for pennies to pay the inflated cost of Cliff Notes? Ah, yes, good or bad, Lynbrook holds so many memories and although we may not realize it now, we will miss that special touch that Lynbrook brings to us all.

"Now I've learned to see what my daddy always tried to tell me. It's a hard life, living on your own, it ain't easy so far from home."

-Eddie Money

"The secret of life is enjoying the passage of time. Any fool can do it, there ain't nothing to it. Nobody knows how we got to the top of the hill. But since we're on our way down, we might as well enjoy the ride."

-James Taylor
